Dominions Secretary Refutes Reports Proposed Anglo-American Pact Would Interfere With Ottawa Agreements—Units of Commonwealth Being Informed of Diplomatic Parleys

LONDON, Dec. 6 (CP-Havas).—The public was informed today that the Dominions were closely informed on diplomatic negotiations resulting from Lord Halifax's visit to Germany, as well as on those toward conclusion of an Anglo-American trade treaty.

Question of Dominion participation in the diplomatic negotiations was raised in the House of Commons by Lieut.-Commander Reginald Fletcher, Labor.

DOMINIONS ADVISED

In reply, Prime Minister Chamberlain said:

"His Majesty's Governments in the Dominions have been kept fully informed regarding all aspects of the conversations . . . and His Majesty's Government of the United Kingdom will continue to keep in close touch with them on all developments of the situation."

Dominions Secretary Malcolm MacDonald, refuting reports that the projected Anglo-American trade pact would negative the Ottawa agreements, declared Imperial preference was not to be discarded, either in principle or practice.

NO ABANDONMENT

"I can assure you," he told the annual meeting of the British Empire League, "that at every stage of the discussions for a new agreement between Great Britain and

Britain Protests Bombing Of Ships; Japanese Army Ready to Smash Nanking

Units Rolling Up Artillery as Fire Rages Through Stricken City

NATIONALS TO LEAVE BEFORE GATES CLOSE

SHANGHAI, Dec. 7 (AP).—Great Britain today protested to Japanese naval authorities against the aerial bombing of two British merchant ships and damage to a British gunboat at Wuhu.

The protest, lodged formally by Vice-Admiral Sir Charles Little, commander of Britain's Far Eastern naval forces, came as Japanese legions reached Nanking's massive walls to lay siege.

NANKING SURROUNDED

At dawn Japanese authorities reported the capital, evacuated by the Government two weeks ago, was surrounded on the south and east.

Japanese units rolled up artillery for a bombardment and throughout the early hours troops massed along the tightening front preparatory to attack.

Japanese officials said a spearhead was thrusting toward the Yangtze which would completely cut off Nanking except on the river side.

Japanese correspondents with the troops reported Nanking's eastern suburbs, including the mausoleum of Sun Yat-Sen, father of the Chinese Republic, and mansion of Premier Chiang Kai-Shek, already were in the invaders' hands.

The $3,000,000 tomb of Sun Yat-Sen, one of the world's most impressive monuments, set on the slope of the famous Purple Mountain, has been considered the shrine of modern China.

SEE RAGING FIRES

Correspondents said fires were raging in Nanking, throwing up smoke columns that could be seen miles away.

A brief dispatch from within the city said the great gates were being

Duke of Gloucester May Be Visitor to Canada at Early Date

LONDON, Dec. 6 (CP).—The Duke of Gloucester tonight told a Canada Club dinner he hoped he and the Duchess might be able in the near future to go to Canada. He recalled a brief visit he made to the Dominion in 1929, when he suffered an accident while playing polo. The Duke recalled that he broke his collarbone at Vancouver, five hours after landing on Canadian soil.

A fortnight's holiday on the east coast of Canada, he said, would give better value for the money spent than a month in many over-crowded Continental resorts. "What I heard and saw during that all too brief visit has remained with me ever since . . . as an incentive to go back there."

Break in Silver Price Not Going To Affect Miner

United States to Continue to Pay Premium on Newly-Mined Metal in Spite of Two-Cent Drop On London Market—President to Issue Proclamation

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6 (AP).—A broad hint that the United States will continue paying United States miners a premium on newly-mined silver came tonight from Treasury Secretary Morgenthau.

He said President Roosevelt would issue a proclamation to replace the one under which the Treasury now pays 77.57 an ounce for domestic silver. The present proclamation expires on January 1, and no new proclamation would be necessary if the programme were to be abandoned.

Fears were recently expressed by Senators Pittman (Dem., Nevada) and King (Dem., Utah) that abandonment of the domestic price would close mines and throw hundreds of men out of work.

BREAK IN LONDON

A few hours before Morgenthau's disclosure, silver depreciation fears caused a 2-cent break today in the world silver price on the London

Trade Department Ratified by House As Session Speeds

Retail Price Fixing and Cut-Price Abuses Aimed At in New Bills Before Legislature—Moratorium Law Extended Without Alteration

THE British Columbia Legislature enacted the new Department of Trade and Industry measure yesterday, placing a ninth department and a ninth Ministry at the disposal of the administration.

The House proceeded with bills at the afternoon sitting enacting subject to final assent, measures to extend the present British Columbia moratorium, consolidate the Department of Mines, and vary schools and hours-of-work laws.

Forest conservation measures were attacked by the Conservative and C.C.F. Oppositions as inadequate, but the bill advanced. In successive divisions the Legislature rejected a bill to bring domestic workers inside the Female Minimum Wage Act, and one to force fire insurance companies to pay on face values of policies.

Second readings were given seven measures, and progress reported on

INCREASED PAY FOR LAW-MAKERS COMES IN LATE-HOUR MOVE

Surprise Manœuvre Provides Cabinet With Augmented Salaries—Forty-Eight Provincial Members Will Be Given $400 More Each in Sessional Indemnities, Free of Income Tax

INCREASES in excess of $40,000 were introduced in the British Columbia Legislature suddenly yesterday by Premier Pattullo by way of larger stipends for a nine-man Cabinet and larger sessional allowances for each of the forty-eight members, to apply this session. The Premier brought in a bill to amend the Constitution Act, fixing his own salary at $9,000 per annum, Cabinet Ministers at $7,500 each, and sessional members' allowances at $2,000 each, income tax free. Increases are also provided in special allowances for the Leader of the Opposition, Speaker and Deputy Speaker.

The effect of the bill is to restore Cabinet salaries, members' indemnities and special allowances to the figure they were prior to the cuts made by the Tolmie regime some years ago. The Premier's salary moves up from $7,200 to $9,000; Cabinet Ministers from $6,000 each to $7,500 each, with provision for a ninth Minister when the Department of Trade is formed.

MEMBERS GET MORE

Members' indemnities go up from $1,600 to $2,000 each; the Leader of the Opposition from $1,600 to $2,000; Mr. Speaker from $1,440 to $1,600, and the Deputy Speaker from $400 to $500. Sessional indemnities, in addition, are classed as outside the range of income, and not subject to the income tax act.

It was only on Friday last week that the Government asked the House to vote sessional indemnities and other sessional costs at the same figure for 1938-39, as they had been this year; and the vote passed. Amendment to the Constitution Act, boosting salaries and allowances, makes these sums retroactive to take in this session, mid-term in the year 1937-38.

INCREASE $40,000

Excluding all other costs the annual bill for the Cabinet and Legislators combined moves up under the act from $125,000 to $165,000, but covers a nine-man Cabinet in place of one of eight Ministers. The bill was No. 17, suggesting preparation much earlier in the session.

Amendments to the Constitution Act authorizing the changes were read a first time at the afternoon sitting, and the bill was not called again during the day.

Epidemic Adds to Trouble in Islands Hit by Typhoon

MANILA, Dec. 6.—Cloudbursts flooded rivers and gales ripped out communication lines today in the Central Philippine Archipelago as the third typhoon this season brought new destruction to the islands. Only two deaths had been reported from the present typhoon, but a serious epidemic of dysentery in Sorgoson Province took many lives.

Blizzards Sweeping Prairies

WINNIPEG, Dec. 6 (CP).—Blizzards swept the Prairie Provinces today, with heavy snow in Southern Saskatchewan and Manitoba. A forty-minute blizzard in Edmonton today blotted out the sun so effectively automobile headlights were needed as the snow drove before a wind of twenty-two miles an hour.

Temperatures were slightly higher after the week-end, with Winnipeg reporting the day's low of 16 below zero.

ROAMING BANDS HAMPER ENEMY

Chinese Communists Organized for Intensive Sabotage Operations

PEIPING, Dec. 6 (AP).—Flying detachments of China's Communist armies were reported reliably tonight to be organizing a guerilla army of 100,000 for large-scale sabotage operations against the Japanese in North China.

Chinese dispatches from numerous points said Japan's drive south to the Yellow River already had been demoralized by sporadic attacks on Japanese communication and supply lines along the Japanese-held railroads.

ENLISTING PEASANTS

Roaming throughout Shansi, Chahar, Hopeh and Suiyuan Provinces, the Communist bands were said to be enlisting peasants and armed remnants of Chinese troops left in the wake of rapid Japanese advances along the railways.

It was predicted they would make no frontal attacks, as they had only small arms. Rather they would confine themselves to harassing Japanese communications and to surprise assaults on isolated detachments.

Kidnap Reports Denied by Family

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y., Dec. 6 (AP).—The strange disappearance of Arthur Fried, thirty-two, New York business executive, from his home in this smart Westchester suburb, Saturday night, was made known today with reports he had been kidnaped and was being held for high ransom.

The reports, which fixed ransom at $100,000, were denied quickly by members of Fried's family.

WINNIPEG IN POOR SHAPE

City Has Financial Problems Of Serious Proportions, Rowell Board Told

WINNIPEG, Dec. 6 (CP).—Municipal responsibilities have so increased in recent years without any corresponding increase in revenue sources that Winnipeg will not be able to balance its budget this year, quite apart from relief costs, J. Prudehomme, Winnipeg city solicitor, told the Rowell Commission today.

For the past five years the city's credit has been so poor it could market no bonds. For a year and a half it was "carried" by the Bank of Montreal. Now even that was ended, for which the bank could not be criticized. Something drastic had to be done by the end of the month, or Winnipeg would be without funds to finance relief.

SERVICE CHARGES

He charged a major cause of the city's condition was the province's asserted practice of deciding to adopt some new service and delegating it to the city without any new grant or aid. While the province had its own difficulties, its revenue had increased $3,000,000 a year since 1931 and the city's had dropped $1,000,000.

Remedies suggested included: The city to be relieved of all unemployment relief costs, including past relief debts, and old-age pension contributions; the city to receive substantial grants toward cost of education and police, as in the United Kingdom; the city to collect taxes on provincial commercial undertakings and the province to turn over part of the gasoline tax and automobile licence revenue to the city.

ROTTINGDEAN, Sussex, Dec. 6 (CP).—Ratepayers of this old town of thatched cottages have protested the introduction of double-deck buses. PEACE RIVER, Alta., Dec. 6 (CP).—Harvey Thompson, fifty-one, was in custody of Royal Canadian Mounted Police here tonight awaiting arraignment before a magistrate on a charge of murdering his fifty-six-year-old wife, a partial invalid.

Thompson was taken into custody on the murder charge after police alleged he choked his wife, beat her over the head with a rung of a chair and then set fire to their farm home in the Whitelaw district, 240 miles northwest of Edmonton, in an attempt to dispose of the body.

Police alleged domestic quarrels led to the murder.

Patrolman A. H. Johnsen said Blendheim met Foster and himself when they entered his room in response to complaints Blendheim had been brandishing a gun. Johnsen said Blendheim fired four shots at Foster and then sought to fire at him, but his gun jammed.

Candidates on Civic Slate Give Talks at Two Public Meetings

Gatherings at City Temple and Chamber of Commerce Hear Policies of Nominees for City Council and School Board

CANDIDATES for City Council and School Board addressed public meetings last night in two places, the City Temple, where Mayor Andrew McGavin spoke, and the Chamber of Commerce, where Dr. J. D. Hunter, M.P.P., mayoralty candidate, was the principal speaker.

F. J. CROWHURST

Fred J. Crowhurst, candidate for a one-year council term, gave an account of his forty years' business experience, and fourteen years in municipal office in other cities. He was confident of his ability to serve the city as an alderman. He was deeply concerned over the reverted property question, and thought some more equitable taxation plan might be worked out. He was in favor of a forum, but only if it added no new burden to taxpayers' present heavy load. A Greater Victoria plan would also engage his attention, he said.

WILLIAM H. DAVIES

Seeking election to the council for a two-year term, William H. Davies said that for twenty-five years he had been keenly interested in civic and public welfare work in Victoria, and was offering himself for election because he felt that there was more that he could do for the city. He stressed the need to find a remedy for a situation which forced a man to forfeit his home for three years' default in payment of taxes, and declared that there could be no such thing as property for class, but that it must be for the whole of the people, and the working man must be protected.

JOHN DAY

John Day, candidate for one-year council term, outlined how he had been active during the past two years in such matters as the Municipal Act and clauses relating to the status of a mayor, aldermen and school trustees, garbage disposal, watershed administration, relief office expenses, relief system, and opposition to payment of $17,000 to the city fiscal agent for the debt refunding plan. He hoped his working knowledge of municipal affairs merited public confidence on election day.

ALD. R. A. C. DEWAR

A brief outline of his work as chairman of the lands committee of the City Council, and participation in undertakings of the electric light, health and inter-municipal committees was given by Alderman R. A. C. Dewar, who is seeking re-election. He was also a city representative to the British Columbia Agricultural Association and the Royal Oak Burial Park. He told how receipts of the land committee were $60,000 at the end of November, double that of last year, and explained work of the committee.

ALD. T. W. HAWKINS

Alderman T. W. Hawkins trusted his record of the past six years would speak for itself. If re-elected for a two-year term he would continue to do his best for the electorate at all times. He outlined his efforts in changing arc lights for electric globes, which, he stated, would save the city some $15,000 next year. The whole change had been made out of the electric lighting budget, he said. He detailed the work of the anniversary celebration committee.

WALTER INWARD

Walter Inward, a candidate for a two-year term on the council, told how he warned the council in 1910 that the ten-year local improvement plan would cause endless trouble in years to come, but was escorted out of the council chamber for his advice. He asserted he was fully versed in the art of municipal government and ready to take his place as a representative of the people. He warned those present of the transportation franchise to be solved soon.

WALTER LUNEY

Walter Luney, running for a two-year aldermanic term, described his council service from 1933 to 1936, during which time he had been chairman of the fire wardens. He advocated reduction of the council to seven members during his term of office, and had also recommended that the electorate designate two aldermen as police commissioners when they selected the council. His past record was open to investigation, he said.

DUNCAN McTAVISH

Duncan D. McTavish, candidate for the council for a two-year term, in a very brief speech declared that anything he could do would be in the interests of the city. He stated that he was a native son of Victoria, where all his business interests lay, and his activities in civic life had been for the beautification and betterment of the city.

MRS. ALICE McGREGOR

Mrs. Alice McGregor, seeking a two-year council term, stated men by no means had all the answers to civic problems. It was high time that women took their place on the City Council, and she hoped electors would make the initial step on Thursday. She questioned the wisdom of the city turning off street lights on moonlight nights, and asserted the city must fight for a restoration of Government grants and release from social service costs.

H. A. MORLEY

H. A. Morley, a candidate for a two-year term on the council, asserted he had been a resident of the city all his life, except for the time served overseas. He had been in the engineering profession for a number of years, and thought his experience in that line would prove of assistance in solving many city problems. He was interested in reducing the tax rate and in keeping expenditures to a minimum, but without sacrificing efficiency.

ALDERMAN S. H. OKELL

Alderman S. H. Okell, seeking re-election, impressed upon the audience the necessity for continuation of a common sense business administration. He had been a resident of the city for forty-seven years and was a heavy taxpayer. If re-elected, he promised to continue his policy of careful consideration of civic problems. He supported debt refunding, believing that taxpayers would be afforded some relief.

ALEX PEDEN

Alex Peden, candidate for the one-year council post, described his experience in civic administration extending over a period of twenty years. He had no comment to make upon the Municipal Act, for he had nothing to sell the city. During his forty-nine years here, he had studied every phase of municipal government. If elected, he would work for a return from the Government of what rightfully belonged to the city, and for absorption of social service.

J. E. SAVIDENT

J. E. Savident, running for the one-year council seat, was particularly interested in reducing the mill rate to encourage building within the city. He was in favor of selling reverted lots at a favorable price in order to foster home ownership. He would also take up the question of replanting boulevard trees with shrubs where the former interfered with sewers, and do his utmost to help solve the garbage disposal question.

HAROLD O. SIMPSON

Harold O. Simpson, a candidate for a two-year council term, described his attempt to secure a seat on the council last year. He believed an annual change on that body would be most beneficial to the city. He was not in favor of a long franchise to the next company serving the city with transportation. If elected, he promised he would be on his toes with lively action.

CAPTAIN B. J. GADSDEN

Captain Burges J. Gadsden stated he had the time, thought and energy necessary to devote to civic problems. He was independent of any group and was not making any promises, but asked the electorate to consider his record as a citizen during the past twenty-seven years. He was fully prepared to assist in coping with the many important matters lying before the council. He is seeking a two-year aldermanic seat.

ALDERMAN EDWARD WILLIAMS

Alderman Edward Williams, seeking re-election, told how he had supervised the laying of 2,500 feet of surface drains and sewers and 5,000 feet of gravel path as chairman of the City Council public works executive. He also reviewed his services as a member of the finance and anniversary celebration committees and the water board. He stated the council had not been antagonistic to outside municipalities during the past year.

FOR SCHOOL BOARD

Trustee Walter E. Staneland and Frank G. Mulliner were the only school board candidates to speak.

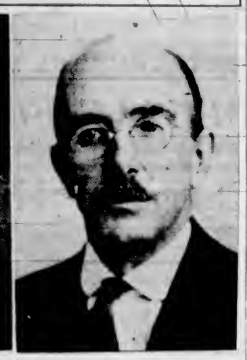

Trustee Staneland explained the per capita cost of education here was higher than in some other cities because 75 per cent of the teachers had reached their maximum salaries and the school population was diminishing. He described reorganization of night schools to place the system on a paying basis.

Mr. Mulliner predicted the next two years on the school board would be difficult. The board would have to observe economy, yet maintain high educational standards and an efficient staff. If elected, he pledged himself to use his business knowledge and interest in educational matters to public advantage.

Mrs. Christie will serve a one-year term caused by resignation of Trustee Mrs. D. L. MacLaurin. Mr. Green will serve a similar term, made available through resignation of Trustee W. C. Moresby, K.C.

COLGATE PALMOLIVE IS EXTENDING PLANT

With the mortar scarcely dry on the $250,000 extension built in 1937, Colgate-Palmolive-Peet Co. Ltd. have started work on a second quarter-million dollar addition, to be completed in 1938.

Following directly upon the quarter-million dollar expansion of 1937, this further investment of $250,000 in 1938 is concrete evidence of public faith in, and demand for Colgate-Palmolive products. It is, too, a definite indication of the company's faith in continued Canadian prosperity.

JOHN BORDEN DEAD

TRADE DEPARTMENT RATIFIED BY HOUSE

three others, before introduction of eight new bills at a crowded sitting. Among the new bills was one to name the new toll bridge over the Fraser River as the "Pattullo Bridge" by statute, and to give provincial police highway rights over the structure.

Mrs. Paul Smith introduced measures dealing with the setting of minimum prices for foods and to prevent the sale of retail commodities at less than set retail prices. The Government withdrew amendments to the Jury Act applying at Prince George.

Three debates arose. Conservatives and C.C.F. members launched a united attack on amendments to the Forest Act, under which the Government will take over some control over slash burning and reforestation, with other technical changes in the law.

REFORESTATION

Conservatives pointed out that a tax penalty of $5 per acre for failure to burn slash might be an inducement, rather than an impost, where slash disposal costs surmounted that figure. They took objection also to rights to transfer pulp licences into timber licences, and on powers to cancel special restoration of licences in arrears after next Spring. The C.C.F. attacked the bill as inadequate in reforestation provisions.

Premier Pattullo declared the measure was a start, and was being advanced on the recommendation of the forest branch. It proceeded, unchanged.

DOMESTIC WORKERS

Mrs. Dorothy Steeves' bill to bring domestic workers under the protection of the Female Minimum Wage Act went to a division after a hotly-argued debate. The bill was killed on second reading, on the following division:

For the measure, Mrs. Steeves and Messrs. H. Winch, Telford, Uphill, Guthrie, Cameron, Shepherd and E. Winch—eight.

Against the measure, Messrs. Pattullo, Pearson, Hart, Wismer, Weir, MacDonald, Gray, MacPherson, Carson, Asselstine, Tupper, Murray, Connelly, Forester, Bryan, Putnam, Kenney, Burns, King, Leary, Gillis, (Mrs.) Smith, Perry, Johnston, Braden, Bull, Henniger, L. Bourdais, Straith, Bruhn, Paton, Maitland, Anscomb, MacIntosh, Eyres, Finland and Hunter—thirty-seven.

Pairs were not read.

Mrs. Steeves argued her bill to require fire insurance companies to either value properties insured at their real value, or to pay losses at the face values of policies written. The Government opposed the bill, on the ground that in practice such a plan would increase premium costs, and place onerous appraisal services on under-writing companies, for eventual collection against the public. The bill was killed on second reading without division.

Message amendments to the Land Act, the Fraser River Bridge Act and the Constitution Act were introduced just before the House recessed at 5:50 p.m. until 8:30 p.m.

ELKS OBSERVE MEMORIAL DAY

Rev. G. R. V. Bolster Delivers Address at Twenty-Fourth Annual Service

Rev. G. R. V. Bolster delivered an inspiring address at the twenty-fourth annual memorial service of Victoria Lodge, No. 2, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, which was held in the lodge rooms, Douglas Street, on Sunday night, attended by about one hundred persons, many of whom were non-members.

The memorial ritual by the officers of the lodge was followed by an opening ode and the invocation by the chaplain of the lodge.

Mr. Bolster emphasized that remembrance should be something more than a mental process; it should also take the form of some concrete action. The lodge members could do no better than to mark their remembrance in an extension of the ideals of brotherly love and justice, characterized by the aims of their organization. In conclusion, the speaker reminded the gathering of the words of the Communion service, "Do this in remembrance of Me," which he described as the greatest act of remembrance.

Soprano solos were given by Mrs. M. Carver and Mrs. E. Ridgway, and a tenor solo by Thomas Kelway, the service concluding with the closing ceremonial by the officers.

COGNIZANCE OF BOYCOTT TAKEN

Movement Based on Malicious Propaganda, Declares Japanese Chamber

Official cognizance of the boycott against Japanese goods, said to exist in this and other Canadian and American cities, has been taken by the Chamber of Commerce and Industry of Japan.

In a telegram received yesterday by the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, from Tokio, the president of the Japanese organization declares the boycott move to be "based on false reports and malicious propaganda," and asks that "you do what you can to stop such movements."

Text of the telegram follows: "We regret that in certain circles in your city there exist boycott movements against Japanese goods, based on false reports and malicious propaganda with regard to the China incident. We earnestly wish you do what you can to stop such movements for the sake of friendship and future trade relations between our two countries.

"KADONO,
President of the Chamber of Commerce and Industry of Japan."

Pending consideration of the telegram by the directors of the local Chamber of Commerce, officials were non-committal about the matter.

TWO INJURED WHEN MOTOR OVERTURNS

When their automobile overturned on the Island Highway near Hopkins Road, in the Shawnigan district, Sunday morning, Alex Webster, twenty-five, 1291 Denman Street, received a fractured skull, and Charles G. White, 679 Granville Avenue, sustained body injuries. They were conveyed to St. Joseph's Hospital in a C. & C. ambulance, for treatment by Dr. Gordon Kenning. Both were reported improved last evening.

JAPAN EMBARGO IS SUPPORTED

Ministerial Body to Approach Ottawa—Dr. Harper Gives Address on Stars

An embargo upon the export of such war materials as nickel, copper and iron to Japan, as an aggressor nation, was advocated by the Ministerial Association as a largely attended meeting held yesterday morning at the Y.W.C.A., and a resolution to that effect will be placed before the Federal Government. Several ministers spoke of the claim being made locally, by pamphlet and interview, that Japan's action was taken against Communism and in the interests of democracy. The meeting, however, was unanimously on the side of the Chinese.

Deep interest was taken in a lecture by Dr. W. E. Harper, director of the Astrophysical Observatory, on "The Modern View of the Universe." Dr. Harper told of the electrical disturbances caused by sunspots and the expectation of astronomers that further study of these cyclical outbreaks of the sun may be useful in forecasting the weather. A swift excursion through "our own universe" and a sketch of the solar planets rounded out a much appreciated half hour.

WEEK OF WITNESS

The week of prayer, that begins on January 3, will be observed, as it was last year, as a "Week of Witness," to be held in St. Andrew's Church, January 3 to 7. The association expressed itself as sympathetic to the proposed three-day session, February 20 to 23, of the World Dominion meetings, advice of which was received from Miss Constance J. Brandon, New York, secretary of the movement. Dr. Zwemer, famous missionary to the Moslems, will be the chief speaker. This movement brought Dr. W. G. Scroggie to the city last year.

Rev. Clarence Lee was heard briefly in support of a Chinese relief fund now being raised by the three Chinese churches, to be distributed through the churches in Shanghai, Canton and other needy places.

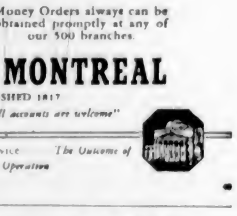

Rev. M. D. McKee, until recently of Salmon Arm, B.C., and formerly minister of St. Aidan's Presbyterian Church, Mount Tolmie, was received as a member of the association, and Rev. John McNab, Toronto, who is supplying St. Andrew's Church, was introduced.

Mr. MacDonald's speech was regarded in some quarters as a reply to a letter sent to Oliver Stanley, President of the Board of Trade, over the week-end by Sir Patrick Hannon, Conservative member of Parliament and president of the National Union of Manufacturers, expressing concern for Imperial preference.

In the intercoastal service of the Vancouver-St. Lawrence Line, the freighter Ss. Levernbank was here yesterday to King Brothers. The Levernbank arrived at Ogden Point Piers shortly before the noon hour and left here about midnight, after discharging approximately 450 tons on the local dock. The Levernbank is a twin-screw vessel of 3,149 tons net and was built by Harland & Wolff at Glasgow in 1925 for the Bank Line.

SAILED SUNDAY

When the freighter Caduceus left Ogden Point Piers on Sunday for Vancouver, her skipper had a quantity of advertising matter relative to British Columbia in his possession: It was given him by J. Gordon Smith, of the Provincial Department of Information, and George I. Warren, commissioner of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau.

The Caduceus is one of the ships "adopted" by the Middle Street Central and Commercial School of Newcastle-on-Tyne, and the information presented him will be used for classroom instruction. The practice of "adopting" freight ships by schools in the Old Country began about three years ago.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—The Panama Pacific Line will continue its regular fortnightly service between New York and California throughout the Winter season, according to P. V. G. Mitchell, vice-president of the company in charge of passenger traffic.

"Because of the current reports regarding the future of the intercoastal service of the Panama Pacific Line," said Mr. Mitchell, "we have sent a notice to our agents to announce that the company has decided to maintain the advertised schedule of sailings through March, 1938, westbound and eastbound, and that agents can book freely and confidently for all sailings up to that time."

POPULAR ROUTE

Announcement regarding sailings after March, 1938, will be made later, Mr. Mitchell said.

The Panama Pacific Line's intercoastal service via Havana, Panama Canal and Mexico is one of the most popular routes for Winter vacation travel, which is now about to enter into its most active season, with the westbound peak coming in late January and the eastbound peak the following month. Three 33,000-ton liners, with a capacity for 750 passengers, the Virginia, Pennsylvania and California, maintain the fastest services on this route. Sailings from New York during the Winter season, according to the schedule now certified by Mr. Mitchell, will be December 24, January 8 and 22, February 5 and 19, and March 5 and 19. From San Francisco the sailing dates are December 18, January 15 and 29, February 12 and 26, March 12 and 26, and April 9.

TROLLERS STATE THEIR ATTITUDE

Opposed to Dealing With Japanese Buyers — Deportation Favored Under Certain Circumstances

NANAIMO, Dec. 6.—At the annual meeting of the B.C. Trollers' Association, which lasted three days here, they went on record as being opposed to their members selling fish to any Japanese packers or to any packer whose employees are Japanese. They also favored the deportation of all Japanese from British Columbia if there is a continuation of fishing by Japanese floating canneries on the continental shelf of North America.

Opposition was strongly expressed to the continued use of fish traps on the south coast of Vancouver Island.

Major Motherwell, chief supervisor of fisheries; A. W. Neill, M.P. and J. R. Tait, Inspector of Fisheries, were present on the last day of the meeting, and amendments to the Fisheries' Act endorsed by the meeting were placed before them for their consideration.

E. Bowden, Victoria, was elected president; Max Gaunt, Shushartie, vice-president, and Mrs. W. H. Taylor, Gabriola Island, secretary-treasurer.

HE SUFFERED AGONY IN WET WEATHER

Rheumatism Attacked Limbs and Body

He had been bothered with rheumatism for years. The pain in wet weather—to use his own expression—was "indescribable." But all that is gone now—thanks to Kruschen. Read this letter:—

"I suffered with rheumatism for years. I dreaded wet weather, for during such periods the pain was continuous and indescribable. To begin with, it was confined to my limbs, but in time I began to suffer as much agony in my body as I did in my limbs. When I began to take Kruschen Salts, I found it did me more good than all the other medicine I had taken put together. Today, I have peace and freedom from pain, even during wet weather, and can heartily recommend Kruschen Salts to anyone who suffers from rheumatism."—N.M.

Rheumatic conditions are often the result of an excess of uric acid in the body. Two of the ingredients in Kruschen Salts have the power of dissolving uric acid crystals. Other ingredients in these Salts assist Nature to expel the dissolved crystals through the natural channels. (Advt.)

Brydon-Jack climaxes a thirty-year career with the Canadian Pacific Railway's engineering and statistical branches with promotion, effective December 1, to the position of assistant manager of the department of personnel, Montreal. HELIUM GAS IS NOW AVAILABLE

U.S. State Department Authorizes Export of Large Quantity to Germany

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6 (AP).—The United States State Department authorized an agent of the German Zeppelin Company today to export 17,900,000 cubic feet of non-inflammable helium gas for use in a new Zeppelin.

The authorization, paving the way for resumption of experimental dirigible flights between Germany and United States next Spring, recalled the explosion of the German airship Hindenburg at Lakehurst, N.Y., last May.

The Hindenburg was inflated with hydrogen, a highly explosive gas. The United States has a virtual monopoly on the non-inflammable gas.

SANTA BOATS WITHDRAWING

Last of Grace Line Ships Off Inter-Coastal Run January 6

SAN FRANCISCO Dec. 6.—Grace Line's Santa Rosa arrives here Tuesday on her last scheduled visit to the Pacific Coast. She comes from New York via ports in Central America and Mexico.

San Franciscans remember with a thrill of pride the day in December of 1933, when the Santa Rosa as the flagship of four new sister-ships, was the vanguard of the $20,000,000 fleet built by Federal Shipbuilding & Drydock Company.

It will be remembered what hopes were raised when in 1931 Edward T. Ford, vice-president of W. R. Grace & Company, issued a statement that the company would build the four new liners and thereby assist in preventing an increase in the unemployment wave that held the country in its grip.

Next Friday at noon the Santa Rosa will sail on her last trip from the Pacific Coast. She and the Santa Paula and Santa Elena will be off the Pacific Coast run by January 6, operating from New York to Caribbean ports. The fourth vessel, the Santa Lucia, has been running from New York to west coast ports of South America for the last three and one-half years.

CARRIED RELIEF SUPPLIES FREE

MONTREAL, Dec. 6.—Since September the Canadian National Railways have carried free approximately 450 carloads of relief supplies to drought areas in Western Canada, it was learned today. Inquiries were made at the railway's freight office here following the remark made by J. A. Argo, chief of tariff bureau, freight division, in giving evidence at the Chevrier Royal Commission hearing in Toronto.

Shipments of fruit and vegetables were carried without freight charges from all parts of Eastern Canada, including Prince Edward Island, which sent potatoes. In addition, 150 carloads of apples went to Saskatchewan from the Okanagan.

More than 1,500 smaller shipments of clothing, books and other supplies have been carried as well.

The Canadian National has made this contribution to the welfare of the stricken people for the past five years. Churches, charitable organizations and other clubs and associations gather the materials.

MOVED BOAT NEAR BEACH

Eastholm Will Get Temporary Repairs Before Being Towed to Drydock

VANCOUVER, Dec. 6 (CP). — The coastal freighter Eastholm, sunk in English Bay last Wednesday in a collision with a lumber barge, today was in about fifty feet of water off Jericho Beach, outside Vancouver harbor. She was lifted by the derrick s.c.o.w. Cherrypicker and moved about two miles to her new position yesterday.

Officials of Frank Waterhouse & Company, owners of the freighter, said she would be beached tomorrow and temporary repairs made. She will then be moved to drydock.

While moving the sunken vessel, the Cherrypicker, owned by the West Coast Salvage Company, struck a submerged log. Salvage company officials said the damage to the scow was not extensive and that she had been repaired and was back in operation today.

The collision which sank the Eastholm occurred during heavy fog in the narrow entrance to Vancouver's landlocked harbor.

ORDER SIX NEW PLANES

Duplicates of Quartette Already Under Construction For Trans-Canada

MONTREAL, Dec. 6 (CP).—Trans-Canada Air Lines have ordered six new transport planes for delivery before August, it was announced today by President S. J. Hungerford.

Similar to four now under construction (to be delivered to Trans-Canada in the Spring), the new ships will be all-metal Lockheed 14H machines, capable of 250 miles an hour top speed, with a cruising speed of 200 miles an hour and a range of 2,125 miles.

Including accommodation for pilots, the planes will have fourteen seating places and what Trans-Canada says is the greatest cargo capacity ever provided in aircraft of the size. Pratt and Whitney twin engines will power the planes, which will have fuel capacity of 650 gallons, wing span of 65 feet 6 inches, and a weight, fully loaded, of 17,000 pounds.

Royal Air Force Officer Died in Tragic Accident

LIVERPOOL, Dec. 6 (CP).—Flying Officer Gordon Dutton was killed today when his Royal Air Force plane crashed into a garden at Kirkdale, near here, during a heavy fog.

His body was found some distance from the plane, a training craft attached to Sealand Airport.

THE AGENT-GENERAL'S OFFICE

Mr. W. A. McAdam, acting Agent-General for British Columbia in London, has "made good" in every sense. He is popular, enthusiastic, held in high regard in the Empire's capital, and has done a notable work for the Province during the years he has been at British Columbia House. The question of his being confirmed in the post of Agent-General has been raised in the Legislature, and has been answered in an evasive way by the Premier. The only conclusion to be reached is that the Government of British Columbia is keeping a permanent appointment to the London office in abeyance with the desire of conferring it ultimately on some political favorite who has become weary of activities in this Province.

The Agent-General's office is not one that should be a political football. Its incumbent is, and should be, as much the representative of the people of British Columbia as of the political party in power, and it is so much the better if the post is occupied by one who has no party prejudices. Mr. McAdam has proved himself a wholly worthy representative, fully equipped in every way to represent the Province in the British capital That is the tribute paid to him by every British Columbian who visits London. All have expressed surprise that he has not been confirmed in the appointment long ago as an act of simple justice. It is not a good advertisement for the Province that in the mind of Londoners and other British people the post should be regarded as a tentative one. That has a tendency to detract from the good work that can be accomplished through its operation. The Government of British Columbia has displayed neither sportsmanship nor good sense in failure to give a full reward to one of its most faithful and efficient servants.

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE

The Provinces are being asked to give the Federal Government a blank cheque for the making of unemployment insurance a national measure. Most of those Provinces are willing to do this, but three of them—Alberta, Quebec and New Brunswick—are asking for further information before committing themselves. These Provinces, very naturally, want to know full details of the law which is to be proposed by the Federal authority. The desire for this information is logical, since, if all the Provinces are willing, it is the Dominion Parliament, without any further consultation with the Provinces, that is to frame the constitutional amendment to the British North America Act to be sent to Westminster for formal enaction.

Probably it will be found in the long run that it is the three Provinces that, in the interests of their constitutional rights, want fuller details of what kind of unemployment insurance is proposed, who are really safeguarding the purposes of Confederation. The attitude of Quebec, Alberta and New Brunswick is one substantially identical. It is not that there is any desire to put obstacles in the way of unemployment insurance. The Provinces in question simply want to know, as they have the right to know, the character of the legislation proposed. They do not want to buy a pig in a poke. Even after the necessary information is furnished to the Provinces it is a matter for their Legislatures to decide if the authority will be given to the Dominion. This has been made clear, and all the Provinces should have followed this course.

So far the Dominion Government has not enlarged on what it intends. It has informed Quebec, Alberta and New Brunswick that the details of an unemployment scheme will be given to Parliament, subsequent to provincial consent having been secured to the necessary constitutional change. This answer has not satisfied the Provinces concerned. They are well within their rights in asking for further information. The proper course for the Federal authority is to let the Provinces know in detail what its plans are. The projected law, to establish the dole in Canada, may be inadequate and perhaps particularly unacceptable to Provinces where seasonal employment prevails and where, during the Winter months, there is greater unemployment than in Summer. The duty of the Provinces is to safeguard provincial interests. If there is secrecy to be maintained about the character of the legislation to implement unemployment insurance those Provinces most deeply concerned about the welfare of their people are on safe ground in hesitating before signing away their rights in the particular at issue.

HIGH SCHOOL FRENCH

Every English-speaking Canadian is conscious of some degree of interest in the language spoken by his fellow-citizens in the Province of Quebec. How great that interest is in any given case depends, of course, upon a variety of circumstances and factors. There are those who, in the interest of national unity and national amity, would furnish every English-speaking boy and girl in our high schools with opportunity to acquire familiarity with, and practical facility in, the use of French as a spoken language. There are those on the other hand who, while recognizing the fact that French is the mother tongue of more than a quarter of our population, nevertheless regard the matter chiefly as an academic interest. They are in favor of the study of French in school because they place a high value upon a reading knowledge of the language for cultural purposes and as the key to an understanding of the people of Old France, their life, habits and customs, literature, and institutions generally. The educational world is by no means a unit as to the true purpose of the study of French in our high schools.

Reflection upon this rather important educational problem will be stimulated by the announcement of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation that on the 9th instant, at 7:15 p.m. central standard time, it will present a radio programme in the interest of "bonne entente" between the two great sections of the population. This broadcast will also serve as an object lesson, to show what can be done by English-speaking boys and girls taking second and third year French in a Winnipeg school The programme has been arranged by the head of the French Department of the Lord Selkirk School. It will consist of ten old French folk-songs sung by a choir of twenty-two English-speaking boys and girls. An interesting feature is that one of the young lads, speaking in French, will act as master of ceremonies.

A school exercise of this kind stands out in marked contrast to the kind of thing that was commonly found in the school books of a period not very long past. Elderly people will recall French lessons involving the laborious translations of such literary gems as the following: "How many plums has the tailor? The tailor has no plums. He has cloth and silk. Is the carpenter sleepy? The carpenter is not sleepy, but the tinman is hungry. Have you the cloth shoe of the physician's sister? Have you seen the red cow of the sick general's wife? No, I have not seen the red cow of the sick general's wife, but I have seen the fierce dog of your mother-in-law." Everyone who has suffered under this kind of "instruction" knows that sentences clumsily manufactured for the single purpose of illustrating some grammatical rule are naturally devoid of intrinsic interest. The modern way is better. Modern teachers of French realize that the subject-matter used in the classroom should be familiar and interesting. They have found that with a modicum of elementary grammar to begin with, young people can acquire some familiarity with French as a spoken language, and that this forms a preparation and an approach to the more advanced and formal stages of the course.

Mr. Lloyd Jaeger, president of the Social Credit League of Ontario, says: "It is quite possible to establish Douglas Social Credit in a dominion, a province, or in any rural municipality or small community desiring to do so. The latter can be done immediately without special legislation, and in conformity with all existing Dominion, Provincial and municipal laws." The conclusion must be reached that no community desires to be the first to make the experiment.

It is an admitted fact that women dress better than men, but then it is only in the rarest instances that women have to pay for what men wear.

ECSTASY

To feel the salt spray kiss your cheek when angry breakers roar,
To ride the billows where the whitecaps sail and know no dread;
To watch the sea gull swoop and dive, the swift-winged swallow soar,
To see the fleet sail home to port when skies are tinged with red.

To watch at ev'n the dusk of twilight clothe the distant hills,
To hear sweet woodland vespers as they rise from countless throats;
To see the feathered songsters wing their way by answering rills,
To feel both earth and sky respond to gladness of their notes.

To wander 'neath the solemn azure of the vaulted night,
To count the scattered stars, to gaze upon the crescent moon;
To glimpse the dazzling serried clouds, faint-tipt with silver light,
To wake with roseate dawn, to greet the cheerful blue of noon.

To find a violet nestling shyly at the old oak's feet,
To catch the fragrance of wild roses, borne on upland wind;
To rest beside a burn, far from the sweltering heat,
To close tired eyes, to dream, to be at peace with all mankind.

Note and Comment

By Sandham Graves

Much could be said about the absurdity of installing gallant red fire sirens at street intersections and then blocking downtown streets to 60 per cent of their width with idle motor cars. I do not know who appear more ridiculous, the police, who solemnly mark front tires once an hour, or the people who leave offices and stores to move vehicles on an inch or two. Except in cases where they are for actual use, why not leave the cars at home? You would actually save money in most instances.

* * *

The impression I get from city streets is that people are all poised for instant flight, as if a nearby volcano were confidently expected to erupt at any moment and drive the whole town out on wheels. It is an imposing spectacle of wealth and importance, but just a little silly. We have no volcano and I do not really believe the Pacific Ocean will arise to flood us in anything short of a million years or so.

* * *

It would be interesting to know truly how many of the cars are indispensable. Consciously or unconsciously, what the corporation is doing is to maintain 60 per cent of the downtown streets as free public garages, and the remaining 40 per cent as congested, troublesome driveways. Big-hearted, that's what.

* * *

Viewing things dispassionately, if we were ever intended to be quite so mobile we should have been born with wheels in place of eight small and two great toes, and you know how uneconomic and destructive to socks and tempers can be even one big toe. As a public, you would look well on wheels, but repairs and replacements might come high.

* * *

While we still have feet, it would harm nobody to use them a little more than we appear to do. I won't embarrass you by asking how long it is since you took your last walk for-the-sake-of-walking. My own answer to that question is quite sufficient.

* * *

The disturbing point is that young men and women today are growing taller and taller, while the cars are growing smaller and smaller. Already the jack-knife effect is clearly noticeable from constant tucking up of feet into cars.

* * *

In a generation or two the ankle-joint won't be sufficient for its purpose and the human leg will require to be equipped with further joints or made reversible. Of course, we could change the cars, but perhaps that is unlikely, having supported the head-stoop, the knee-bend, and the pain-in-the-neck for so long uncomplaining. As a public, you are too patient. You will take almost anything, doubled-up!

* * *

Well, let me warn you. Coast Indians got that way, too, from sitting down in the stern of their dugout canoes with their feet curled under them. They started it as babies, and by the time they were seven years of age the stoop had become permanent. It stunted their whole live, not mentally but physically. That can happen to you That will happen to you unless you stretch out your feet once in a while, and really use them.

* * *

To revert to parking for a moment. In front of me as I write there is a large yellow sign on a lampost, stating in black letters, "No U Turn." At this intersection at the moment the sign is entirely wasted. You couldn't make a U turn in a car if you tried; you could not even make a right-handed turn; indeed, you would be supremely fortunate if you could just continue in the same straight line without rubbing off the fenders. Above the sign is a fire-gong. I have been waiting to hear it ring, but perhaps it is just as well it does not. The toll would be terrific.

* * *

All of which brings me to the crowning anomaly of all. Here in a town all set to move out before a volcano, before a tidal wave, before disaster in whatsoever shape or form it may one day come—not a single, solitary vehicle could be pried away from the curb in less than three minutes. At a rough computation, a flow of lava (had we a mountain) would have gone a quarter of a mile in that time; a tidal wave, perhaps a mile or more, and attacking airplanes, say, fifteen miles, clear through the city to Keating. How far the fire trucks could go is beyond me.

* * *

I like that story from Seattle over the wires of the Associated Press recently, which told how four women and one man captured a bold, bad highwayman. The bandit drove up to the gas station—he was on wheels, too—ordered the operator to fill up his tank and oil containers, and then beat him unconscious with a wrench as the operator stooped to examine a tire. The bandit robbed the operator and was about to hustle off when

* * *

He was tackled by a fourteen-year-old girl who clamped herself tightly around his legs; when the operator's wife clamped herself around his arms; when two other women, passing, joined in and pushed the bandit down on the ground; when all four women sat down on him simultaneously while a mere man telephoned for the police. The police had to revive the bandit before they could take him to the station. That was service, and I'll bet they smiled!

Better Service, Please!

The Christmas rush has begun at the postoffice; yet despite the fact that the business of the office has increased very considerably as compared with normal times, a single stamp wicket has to serve the needs of everyone, and that maid-of-all work, the parcel, general delivery, inquiry and what have you window, struggles along unaided. On Saturday afternoon a queue extended from the parcel window right back to the revolving doors, and when I came in at the tail end some of those in the line were beginning to wish they had brought their supper with them. The man in front of me only wanted to collect his mail from general delivery; yet he had to wait while dozens of people dispatched their Christmas parcels—and you know how long a wait that involves. This is in no way intended as a reflection upon the courteous and obliging clerks themselves. On the contrary, they would probably be only too glad to have the other stamp window opened and better arrangements made for the mailing of parcels, to relieve the rush.—R.M.

And What a Hope

(I hope the Minister of Labor will soon consider passing a law making it illegal for housewives to work after 7 o'clock in the evening.—Mrs. Dorothy Steeves, M.P.P.)

Leave them be . . . the dirty, greasy dishes.
Let the children go to bed alone;
Supposing that your spouse comes home with wishes
For supper . . . tells the man to hunt himself a bone.
You merely loll at ease, or seek enjoyment,
Never do a tap of work at night;
Mark it well, your time of unemployment,
While away the hours with main and might.
Regulating housewives is so easy,
Just a law to see they have some fun;
It is only those with notions queasy
Who say a woman's work is never done.

Evening Reflections

After an encouraging day, when things go just right, you are bound at evening to run across some Cassandra or Job, who, if they do not prognosticate woe, at least draw to your attention a series of human frailties which make you feel bad . . . I met one such lad the other night, who complained that few pedestrians ever observed the rule of the road, and took a distinct pleasure in walking to the left; that the good housewives of Victoria always sat in the front of street cars instead of taking available seats to the rear; that Victorians generally refused to fold their newspapers on crowded trams, causing much inconvenience; that autoists, when streets were muddy, took glee in sloshing water all over pedestrians, and that the population of Victoria was not gaining from natural increase, but by the influx of people from the Prairies. He concluded by saying half-wits made the most successful men . . . Most of his observations may have been true, since he is quite prosperous himself, but one wishes he would keep his reflections to himself, especially when one feels happy.—B.G.

Locked Himself Out

Ernest, of Little Saanich Mountain, is in the "dog house." Bound for the city, the mountain dweller rolled down the steep incline in his speedy coupe. He was en route to meet the "one and only," and had administered a high polish to his car for the occasion. At the bottom of the mountain, Ernest stopped to visit a sick friend. Upon emerging from the house he was horrified to find he had left his car keys in the ignition lock and both doors were clicked shut. He dashed to the nearest telephone to put in a call for a friend. Unfortunately the friend was out, so Ernest left a message for him to meet the girl and entertain her until his delayed arrival. In his haste he neglected to say where the girl was to be met. The friend received the message, but without directions was unable to locate the girl. In the meantime Ernest telephoned another friend on the mountain who dashed down with his spare car keys. Two hours late for his appointment, he roared into the city and finally located the girl at home. It is going to cost Ernest a handsome Christmas present to leave precincts of the "dog house."—G.B.

SPREADING RUMORS

Sir,—I was greatly impressed by Mr. P. H. Elliott's appeal to his audience (the Current Events Group of the Y.W.C.A.), that we should refrain from repeating all statements, whether concerning people or local and international matters, unless we have found them to be true after investigation; that terrible cruelty and harm can be, and is wrought, by unconsidered spreading of rumors. ALICE COLCLOUGH.

View Royal, Esquimalt, B.C., December 4, 1937.

RADIO BROADCASTING

Sir,—I was glad to see in The Colonist of yesterday that our neighbors to the South have decided that the standard of their radio broadcasts must be raised and made more suitable for adults, and the sooner Canada follows their example and does the same thing, the better. I for one, am fed up with the rubbish that comes over the air, and I don't think I am an exception. Take the "Breakfast Hour" over CBR. Surely it should not be necessary for an announcer to make a clown of himself in order to amuse his listeners when I am sure the majority of them would much prefer to be entertained in some worth-while manner at the beginning of a new day.

(MRS.) EDITH M. PEARSON.

R.M.D. 3, Victoria, B.C., December 3, 1937.

OAK BAY FIRE PROTECTION

Sir,—Appearing in your paper under today's date is a letter over the signature of William White, 279 Government Street. Though there is no house at this address I am replying to that leter from which I quote as follows:

"He (Mayor McGavin) did not mention that he assisted in losing the city about $15,000 annually in his endeavor to hold up Oak Bay in the matter of fire protection. The sum was easy money for the city. Very seldom, indeed, did the fire department have a call to Oak Bay. Now the taxpayers have to make up that $15,000 in addition to their regular taxes. A man who is capable of that should not be mayor."

The citizens are entitled to the facts, though if they have followed the many articles in the local press anent the subject, they should be well aware of them.

Under the agreement proposed, the cost to Victoria for extending fire protection to Oak Bay would have been $27,804 a year, for which we would have received $15,000, with a resultant loss of $12,804 annually.

By declining this agreement the city is saved a corresponding amount.

Mr. White's figures are just $27,804 out of line with the facts relative to the Oak Bay fire-protection proposal.

Our department responded to sixty-four calls in Oak Bay during the last eleven months, and to 526 in Victoria. Based on Oak Bay's offer this would work out at a cost of $210 per call for Oak Bay and $350 per call for the city.

Mr. Editor, this should answer Mr. White's uncalled for attack on Mayor McGavin.

W. LLOYD MORGAN.

CURRENT EVENTS CLUB

The last regular meeting of the Gordon Head Current Events Club will be in the form of a tea to be held in the Gordon Head Hall, Tyndall Avenue, on Thursday at 3 p.m. A musical programme has been arranged by Mrs. E. G. Paddon. The soloists will be Mrs. Hebden and Mrs. M. Dawson and the pianist, Miss Lorraine Heming.

KEEPING GOAL

One Sunday afternoon a minister was having a quiet stroll about the fields. He came across a lot of young men playing football. The minister, of course, was very shocked. He walked straight up to one of the players and said: "Now my good man what would your dad say if he saw you breaking the Lord's Day?" The young man answered back: "You'd better ask him; there he is in the goal."

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

By Ely Culbertson

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

(Mr. Culbertson is conducting, through this column, a national examination of bridge players. Rate yourself by subtracting from 100 the points for each wrong answer).

Question 34 appeared on Friday. It was:

Question 34. Both sides vulnerable. Rubber bridge. You are South, second hand. East deals and bids one spade. Your holding is:

♠ 6 4 3 ♥ 7 2 ♦ A K 10 7 5 ♣ A 6 3

What call do you make?

Answer: You should pass. Your three honor tricks do not begin to compensate for your lack of sufficient playing tricks at the two level. You should not double one spade, since you are quite unprepared for partner to bid the other major suit, hearts, and an overcall by you of two diamonds may be severely penalized (Two points demerit for any call other than a pass.)

TODAY'S QUESTIONS

Question 35: Both sides vulnerable. Opponents have 80 part score. You are South, and hold:

♠ K J 9 8 6 ♥ Q 3 ♦ K 7 5 ♣ 8 6 2

East (your right-hand opponent) deals and bids one spade.

What call do you make?

Question 36: Both sides vulnerable. You are South. The bidding proceeds:

West	North	East	South
1 ♥	Dble.	Pass	?

You hold:

♠ K 10 9 7 5 ♥ 2 ♦ A 10 8 6 ♣ Q 9 4

What call do you make?

TODAY'S HAND

East, dealer.
Neither side vulnerable

NORTH
♠ K 10
♥ 7 6
♦ K J 9 4
♣ K 8 6 5 2

WEST
♠ Q 8 3
♥ 10 9 8 5 4
♦ 8 6 3 2
♣ 7

EAST
♠ A 6 4 2
♥ A K 2
♦ 10
♣ Q J 9 4 3

SOUTH
♠ J 9 7 5
♥ Q J 3
♦ A Q 7 5
♣ A 10

The bidding

East	South	West	North
1 ♣	Dble.	1 ♥	2 ♦
2 ♥	2 NT	Pass	3 NT
Dble.	Pass	Pass	Pass

East's double was decidedly optimistic. True, he had a very fair hand, but West, his partner, by bidding directly over the take-out double, had shown a poor hand and inability "to stand" even one club doubled. Also, East might have imagined that the opponents would have a good diamond suit to run off, which would embarrass him for discards. Speaking of optimism, South also did some pretty aggressive bidding.

West opened the heart ten. East cashed the ace and king, and returned the deuce. Declarer won, dummy discarding a club, and ran four diamond cards. Correctly reading declarer for the ace-10 of clubs, East saw that he could not shorten his own club suit too much, otherwise dummy's remaining four-card club suit would be established. East, therefore, let go two spades and one club. Now, with the play in dummy, declarer led the five of clubs. East split his honors. Declarer won with the ace, then led a low spade, and finessed against the queen. East won with the ace and hastily exited with his remaining spade. Declarer then led a low club towards his own ten spot, and East made a fatal error. To prevent declarer's ten from winning, as East realized it would, he went up with the queen. It was an expensive trick, since he then had to return a club from the 9-4 into dummy's tenace.

Had East graciously permitted the club ten to win, declarer would have had to present West with the last two tricks, namely, the high spade and a long heart.

It sometimes is very profitable to give up a sure trick.

The time used is Pacific standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of low water.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the new Esquimalt Drydock, add 30 feet to the height of water as shown above.

Hunter Voices Hope Of Further Relief To City Taxpayers

Mayoralty Candidate Declares Refunding Scheme Saved City From Default—Emphasizes Need For Compensation for Tax Exemptions

"AS a result of the reconstruction of our debt it has been found possible to give our taxpayers some degree of relief, and I am most hopeful that before long some further relief may be possible," Dr. J. D. Hunter, M.P.P., candidate for the mayoralty election opposing Mayor Andrew McGavin, stated at a meeting of electors in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium last night.

Dr. Hunter declared that as chairman of the finance committee he had worked hard for the debt refunding plan, realizing that if there were not some considerable change in the whole financial set-up the city would have to default. The plan had been the means of enabling the city to pay its way and meet all just lebts.

"It must not be thought or suggested that on account of this measure of relief we should in any way be extravagant; rather must we still practice the most rigid economy," the candidate emphasized.

TAX EXEMPTIONS

Referring to tax free property within the city limits, Dr. Hunter said he considered it unfair that this property should produce no revenue whatever to Victoria, and maintained that the city should be compensated in some way for the emergency, fire and other services which it provided. He pointed out that a little over 32.5 per cent of the total assessment was exempt.

Provincial Government property exempt from taxation would produce more than $100,000 a year at the mill rate, and on the same basis Dominion Government property would produce more than $150,000. He did not suggest that full taxes should be received for these properties, but thought that some compensation might be given in the form of return of grants and easement of social service costs.

GREATER VICTORIA

"I fear that at the present time our outlying municipalities are farther away from the idea than ever before," Dr. Hunter continued, in touching upon the question of Greater Victoria. He advocated a round-table discussion with the leaders of the municipalities, to talk things over in a "sane and sensible manner."

"One of the most distressing policies that this city practices is, I think, that of selling people's homes for nonpayment of taxes," Dr. Hunter declared. "I think that in many cases this is unjust and unfair and if I have the opportunity I will certainly do all in my power to right this wrong."

SALE OF CITY PROPERTY

The problem of the sale of city-owned or reverted property should be considered strictly on the merits, the speaker contended. No doubt it would be good business to make some sales from the standpoint of revenue to the city. The land committee had been very active this year, and brought considerable revenue to the exchequer.

He maintained that the city health department did not receive all the consideration it deserved, and urged that every effort should be made to see that there was no danger of contamination of the water supply. For this reason he opposed the establishment of forestry camps on the watershed, while favoring such camps in other places. He also stressed the need for the provision of conveniences in the city.

Regarding medical and nursing attention to the indigent sick, the speaker said it was gratifying to know that these people were now receiving the best treatment that had ever been accorded to them, and stated that it was largely due to his efforts that the old nurses' home at the Jubilee Hospial was brought into use for this purpose. The present system was also less expensive to the city, though he agreed that it was not seemly that such an humanitarian matter should be treated from a financial point of view.

The police commission had acted harmoniously and efficiently during the past few years, Dr. Hunter said, and he strenuously opposed the change which provided for the commission to consist of the mayor and two aldermen to be elected by the council. He declared that the people should have the right to decide what kind of commission they desired.

CRITICISM ANSWERED

"I have been criticized for not finishing my term on the council," he continued. "Well, I have answered that criticism more than once lately, and will not further do so, excepting to say that for reasons which I do not wish to repeat, it was too distasteful for me to continue." He described as "ridiculous" any suggestion that on account of his legislative duties he would be unable to find time to attend properly to civic duties, and added that it might be a good thing for the mayor to be a member of the Legislature.

"I ask you for your vote and influence on Thursday next, and assure you that should you elect me, it will always be my greatest endeavor in the future as in the past to do everything I possibly can in the best interests of all the people of this city of Victoria, and win or lose, shake the hand of my opponent and wish him well," Dr Hunter concluded.

A chemist's assistant had designed a notice and exhibited the same, when the owner confronted him. "You idiot," said the latter. "Read that again and think. Fancy saying 'Try Killem's Cough Cure, it's the best—you'll never get better.'"

SEES USE FOR HUDSON ROUTE

Commander C. T. Beard Tells Advantages of Passage for Grain Travel

Within ten years ships will leave London in the Summer, proceed via the northern capes, and arrive in Victoria in forty days, Commander C. T. Beard, R.C.N., predicted in an address on the Hudson Bay route given to the Overseas League in Spencer's dining-room yesterday afternoon.

In explaining the advantages of the Hudson Bay route for the shipment of grain to England and Europe, Commander Beard pointed out the importance of getting the grain out to the world's markets as cheaply as possible. The Hudson Bay route was navigable for ten weeks of the year at most, and those weeks were the ones most suitable for the grain crop. In war time Hudson Bay offered a route clear of all submarines, and there would be no need for convoys.

EASIER NAVIGATION

The distance from Montreal to Liverpool was only 100 miles shorter than from Churchill, the railhead on the eastern shore of Hudson Bay, to Liverpool and on the former route the dangers from fog and ice were twice as great as on the route via Hudson Strait. Between August 10 and October 10, it was easier to take a ship through Hudson Strait than up the St. Lawrence, Commander Beard believed that in years to come, when there was more demand for this route, science would find a way of providing a longer season.

The speaker told of the operations of the icebreaker, and of the fine navigational aids provided by the Canadian Government. He explained also the difficulty caused by the irregularity of the magnatic compass in this region, and stated that the gyro compass was a definite requirement. Direction-finding stations provided by the Government had proved a god-send.

Commander Beard gave a wealth of interesting historical and geographical information concerning the Hudson Bay and surrounding territories, the construction of the railway to Churchill, the early voyages of discovery in the North, and the living conditions in that region today. He mentioned that it was not until this year that the passage from West to East was accomplished, by a Hudson's Bay schooner, an achievement which did not receive the recognition it deserved.

DECLARES WAR NEWS NOT TRUE

Japanese Control Communications, Says Official of Kuomintang Party

Liu Wai-Chih, a member of the central executive committee of the Kuomintang, the Chinese Government party, spent the week-end in Victoria, and while here expressed his thanks to his countrymen and foreign friends for the generous donations that had been made to China in its struggle against Japan.

He denied rumors of negotiations for peace, and said nothing of that nature would occur until such time as Japanese forces were withdrawn from Chinese soil. He also maintained that Nanking would not fall without a great battle, since the invaders had opposing them before the city a force estimated at 500,000 men.

Mr. Liu suggested that a great deal of the war news was not true, since Japan controlled practically all communications. War news from Shanghai was made public by Domei, the Japanese news agency, he said.

He contended the aim of Japan was domination of the five northern provinces—Chahar, Suiyan, Hopeh, Shansi, Shantung and the control of Shanghai. Once this aim is achieved, he points out, the famous Tanaka plan calls for the domination of Asia.

"If the Japanese control the Pacific, what will happen to the United States and Canada?" he asked.

Mr. Liu was welcomed by a delegation of local Chinese residents headed by Herbert Lee, president of the Chinese Benevolent Association.

market, from about 44 3-4 cents an ounce to the equivalent of 41.44 cents an ounce. The secretary told a press conference the Treasury continued to buy foreign silver at 45 cents an ounce today.

Although the Treasury pays about 32 cents an ounce more for new domestic silver than for other silver, it still realizes a large paper profit because the law makes each ounce of silver in the Treasury worth $1.29.

The Treasury, however, has spent none of the fund built up through these operations.

WINNIPEG IN POOR SHAPE

The province had exempted railways from municipal taxation and imposed a provincial tax on railways' earnings, which yielded about $600,000 a year. If railway properties in Winnipeg were taxed on the same basis as other property, it would produce about $500,000 a year. Since the city had to provide service for railway properties, it should receive a substantial part of provincial revenue from the railways.

Since 1934 the general tax rate in the city had been thirty-four and one-half mills, to which was added another twelve mills for local improvements, water and business taxes. Any increase in land taxes would only accelerate the present rate of abandonment of property by owners.

Mayor McGavin Gives Outline of His Work For City at Meeting

Tells of Economies Instituted to Safeguard Taxpayers' Interests and Holds Out Bright Hope For Future—Gives Plans for Next Year

MAYOR Andrew McGavin, seeking re-election for a second term as chief magistrate of the city, outlined his efforts of the past year to save taxpayers' money, restore confidence in the community and produce new hope for the future during a campaign meeting at the City Temple last evening.

In briefly discussing the Fortin debt adjustment plan, Mayor McGavin stated the scheme was an important factor in reducing the tax rate bne and one-half mills this year. He had set his mind on a reduction, and was supported by the City Council, he stated.

Continuing, he described how the mill rate cut meant a tax reduction of 7 per cent if taxes were prepaid, and a slash of 5 per cent if levies were met before application of the first 1 per cent penalty.

BALANCED BUDGET

There was every hope that collection of current taxes and those in arrears would exceed the anticipated sums by $100,000 at the end of December. Although the council had to carry over a deficit of $61,000 from 1936, the budget had been balanced.

"If re-elected to office, I promise to leave no stone unturned to produce another balanced budget for 1938," Mayor McGavin declared.

"Thanks to the able assistance of my colleagues, we have had a far better year than the previous one. We have new hope for 1938. The outlook is bright," His Worship asserted.

The Mayor described how one of his first moves when installed as mayor in January was to cut the mayor's indemnity from $4,000 to $3,600; the entertainment fund from $1,500 to $1,000, and complete elimination of an allowance of $225 for car hire.

STRICT ECONOMY

He interpreted his elevation to mayoral office as a mandate to administer business of the city on lines of strict economy, with a fiscal policy to protect people's pockets. During the past year he had pursued a sane and sound course, he said. Many frills had been eliminated, but he was satisfied civic dignity had not suffered in consequence.

Mayor McGavin told how he urged speedy action on replacement of arc lights with electric globes, a change that would result in a saving of $15,000 per year. He outlined efforts to introduce economy in school administration, with a net result that the school board reduced estimates $34,500.

One of his early actions had been to negotiate with the bank to eliminate payment of $1,300 per annum for safeguarding sinking funds. He eventually secured use of a savings deposit box "with a saving of over $1,200 per year, and no sacrifice in safety."

SECURES PAYMENT

Empowered by the council, he also succeeded in securing $2,500 from the B.C. Electric Railway Co., Ltd., as its share of repairs to Point Ellice Bridge.

Touching upon anniversary celebrations, Mayor McGavin asserted efficient management resulted in a surplus of approximately $4,000, instead of a deficit often resulting from festivities.

Referring to his opponet for the mayoralty, he stated he felt no animosity, but had been called upon several times to explain misstatements. The mayor said he had, himself, waged a clean campaign, his main interest being to tell what had been accomplished by the mayor and council during the past year and also to endeavor to paint a brighter picture of the future.

VOICES DENIAL

"It has been stated that I am in the transportation business and thus vitally interested in matters dependent upon expiration of the street car franchise," Mayor McGavin said. "I am not in the transportation business and am not connected with any company of that kind. I regret such statements are making the rounds," he added.

He claimed his opponent's efforts to create alarm, because of a forestry camp on the Goldstream watershed, were quite unwarranted. His opponent was in favor of selling watershed timber, which would have meant many men camped on the property, he said.

In conclusion, Mayor McGavin stated the city's case would be placed before the Rowell Commission, efforts would be made for a reduction in electric light and power rates, tenders would be called to provide bus transportation, the Fortin plan was an accomplished fact and confidence had been restored in the city.

OBJECTION TO FASCISM TAKEN

Provincial Council, Young Citizens' League, Deplores Rise of Movement

The apparent rise of Fascism in Western Canada, "as evidenced by recent reports in the local press in advocacy of the corporate state," was deplored by the Central Provincial Council of the Young Citizens' League of British Columbia, when it met in League headquarters Sunday evening.

The council passed a resolution opposing "political partisanship in civic life, and any form of political affiliation that will influence the views of any civic official."

A second resolution recognized the need "of government legislation for the arbitration of industrial and labor disputes, on a non-partisan basis, rather than resort to strikes lockouts and other forms of disturbance, harmful to employee and employer alike."

Reports of the league organization on the Mainland were discussed.

Neil B. Butler spoke on the rise of trade unionism and the current industrial situation. J. N. Bawden was elected to the position of secretary-chairman of the study group which meets Sunday afternoons.

LEGISLATURE ENDS VOTES

Estimates Virtually Completed at Evening Sitting —Several Debates

The British Columbia Legislature virtually completed its book of estimates last evening, voting $217,564 for the new Department of Trade and Industries, including $6,000 on the old scale for the salary of a minister when appointed. Votes in the departments of Railways, Municipal Affairs and held-over items in all departments carried, with debate on an item of $25,000 as a Government grant to continue the British Columbia Health Insurance Commission.

The House rose at 11 p.m. until 2:30 p.m. today with amendments to the Health Act (not insurance) and Residence and Responsibility Act coming down before adjournment.

HEALTH INSURANCE

R. L. Maitland, K.C. (Cons., Point Grey) opened attack on the $25,000 grant to the Health Commission. Sums of $500 a month to the chairman, $475 a month to a vice-chairman and $1,000 per annum to each of two commissioners were being paid for a body that had held twenty-one meetings in all, without visible results that the Legislature could see. Office furnishings had cost $7,400; business machinery rentals, $1,553, with a monthly rental of $150 per month for premises now.

Captain M. F. Macintosh (Cons., the Islands) concurred. The House was asked to vote sums under an act that set up its own machinery for collections from beneficiaries, and which had been without tangible results so far.

The Government had already shown that there had not been time since re-election to bring in a workable plan, Hon. Dr. G. M. Weir reiterated, and the commission had plenty of work to do.

A chance reference by Dr. Weir to sit down strikes brought Dr. J. J. Gillis (Lib., Yale) to his feet.

DEBATE BROADENS

"The medical profession did not sit down on strike. They only asked for something reasonable. We strongly favored the principle, but felt that any scheme to be a success must take in all employees and include those most in need of insurance. The medical men never agreed to $3.50 per patient," said Dr. Gillis sharply.

Commenting that $100,000 was shown as spent under the scheme, H. G. Perry (Lib., Fort George) asked the Government if any report would be made by the commission as to disbursements of that sum. Dr. Weir replied a report would be made.

COMMISSION CENSURED

"As I see it, the commission is not entitled to any compliments from this Legislature. The House, which is supreme, passed the statute. The Government proclaimed it, and there must have been some mistake along the route, for it was found then that there were no agreements ready. Someone was to blame for giving wrong advise to His Majesty's Government. The act was approved, but there were no arrangements made with the medical profession That placed the Government and the Liberal Party on the spot. Then the plebiscite was held, and endorsed in no uncertain manner. I do feel that there has been a lack of diplomatic qualities on the part of the commission or whoever was advising the Government," Mr. Perry asserted.

HOSPITALIZATION

Dr. Lyle Telford (C.C.F., Vancouver East) said it was vital the statute be retained. The Government could start with a scheme of complete hospitalization, and add diagnostic facilities for the medical profession. Speaking for himself, he would say the medical profession would be behind the scheme, as doctors were now carrying the burden unaided. The scheme should be broadened to include farmers, domestic workers and all not originally under the act.

Dr. F. P. Patterson, Conservative Leader of the Opposition, challenged the assertion that the medical profession was behind the scheme. So far as he was aware, no one had been authorized to speak for the profession. Speaking for the Conservative party, he would say the Conservative party favored the principle of health insurance, and had done so from its inception, but wished to be assured first it was a practical scheme that could be made to work. The party was not in favor of the present act, and its opinions there had been confirmed.

VOTE PASSED

Liberals rallied to the support of the Government on the issue, and the $25,000 for grant in aid of organization, described as necessary for continuance of the commission, carried.

Dr. Telford drew the attention of the Government to storage of large gasoline reserves in Vancouver Harbor near the Marine Building, where, he said, 15,000,000 gallons were under storage, exclusive of several tanks in other parts of the city. He declared that recent leaks in a city sewer had shown gasoline draining from a tank, with imminent hazard to life and property, and asked what the Government proposed to do about storage regulations.

Attorney-General Wismer undertook to have the matter investigated by the fire marshal's branch. He had already warned the city, Dr. Telford added.

SAYWARD ROAD

The House passed on to other estimates, voting $2,179,570 in maintenance of roads, bridges and ferries, with several members asking for improved ferry services in Lower Mainland ridings. Colin Cameron (C.C.F., Comox) pressed for action on highway connection for Sayward district on Vancouver Island, stating logging roads could be used for all save twelve miles of the way. The Sayward link would have to wait, he was told.

There was brief debate on the old highway bridge at New Westminster. Premier Pattullo reiterating the Government hoped to turn the lower deck of the structure over to the Dominion Government for railway use. The issue, he said, was still under negotiation.

TRADE-INDUSTRIES

The new Department of Trade and Industries will require $217,564, largely by way of transfer of costs from existing departments, with $50,000 added by way of costs to a British Columbia exhibit at the San Francisco Exhibition in 1939. A minister's office, three bureaus and a general office, with a deputy minister and bureau directors are detailed. The department will require Royal assent to its originating act before coming into actual being.

Main votes include: Bureau of Industrial and Tourist Development, $80,000, including $50,000 for advertising and publicity, $10,000 for general advertising, salaries and expenses (comparing with Provincial Information Bureau vote of $75,000 last year); San Francisco exhibit, $50,000; Bureau of Trade Extension, including lumber trades extension grant, $50,000; Bureau of Economics and Statistics, $20,000 (compared with $16,000 for economic council work last year); general office, $7,364; and minister's office, $10,200. Provision is made for a deputy minister at $4,300 per annum.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS

The Department of Municipal Affairs will require $20,080, compared with $18,120 in the previous budget. Of this sum, $15,080 is for salaries, including $4,000 for a separate supervisor of municipalities, and the addition of one clerk. The balance is for expenses, including $2,750 for traveling and $1,000 for contingencies.

RAILWAYS

The Department of Railways will require $21,430, compared with $75,983 in the previous budget. The sum of $58,625 is cut off where shown formerly for upkeep costs on the old Fraser River bridge, and revenues from the same source also disappear. A changed vote of $3,300 appears in the Victoria office for an inspector of railway structures and track. The Vancouver office remains unchanged at $11,140, and the balance is for expenses, including $3,400 for traveling.

Delegates' Reports Cover Recent Provincial Meeting

Local Council of Women's Last Meeting of Year Held Yesterday Afternoon at Y.W.C.A.—New Corresponding Secretary Named

Three comprehensive reports by official delegates from the Victoria Local Council of Women to the Provincial Council quarterly meeting, held here recently, filled the major part of the December session of the Local Council yesterday afternoon at the Y.W.C.A. Mrs. Alan J. Campbell's report covered the morning session, Mrs. Hugh MacKenzie's the afternoon, and Mrs. A. C. Ross gave a precis of the results of the interview the following morning with the members of the Cabinet.

Arising from the last, Mrs. Ross recalled that when the council's resolution concerning forestry preservation had been read, Premier Pattullo had commented that considerable emphasis had been placed on the neglect shown by logging companies in clearing up slash, but, personally, he thought they were not too remiss, and that there was a belief in some quarters that leaving slash behind assisted natural regrowth. But the council had reiterated its stand, pressing for greater protection. All three delegates were cordially thanked for their good reports.

SOUND FINANCES

A particularly cheerful note was struck in the report of the treasurer, Mrs. I. Fleming, whose financial statement showed that as the result of Dr. Nadine Kavinoky's Institute on "Sex and Living," held here ten days ago, the council, which sponsored the lectures, had benefited to the extent of over $40. Miss Lyne Mess' report on the Institute also attested to the success of the institute, a repetition of which had been asked for in several quarters. One letter of high commendation had been received from one of the leading ministers of the city. Bibliography was available through Miss Mess at the Children's Aid; Miss Margaret Clay had reported also that a number of the books were on the shelves of the Victoria Public Library. Follow-up work and study classes were planned.

On recommendation of Dr Olga Jardine, president of the council, a letter is going forward from the Local Council thanking Dr. Kavinoky for her work here.

BY ACCLAMATION

Introduced as the Local Council's candidate to fill the vacancy on the school board created by the resignation of Mrs. D. L. MacLaurin, Mrs. A. S. Christie expressed her appreciation of the sponsorship, and announced that she had just received a message of her election by acclamation to the vacancy, a statement received with applause. Other than a pledge to make a faithful study of her duties and to be faithful to the interests of taxpayers, parents and children alike, she could not at present make any promises.

In response to a communication from the John Howard Society requesting council representation on the deputation that will wait on the Attorney-General at the Parliament Buildings tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock to urge establishment of a Borstal institution for young offenders, the president, Dr. Jardine, Mrs. Alfred Carmichael, Mrs. Alan Campbell and others will be present.

Announcement was made that the annual meeting of the National Council will be held in Vancouver, May 20 to 27, 1938, the early date being set owing to the meeting of the International Council in Edinburgh in July. Annual meeting of the Victoria Local Council will be held in February.

TAKES OFFICE

The office of corresponding secretary, made vacant by the recent retirement of Miss Marjorie Hill, has been taken over by Mrs. Alfred Carmichael.

The council during the week-end sent birthday and wedding anniversary greetings to Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Spofford. In reporting this, Dr. Jardine expressed profound regret that Mr. Spofford was so seriously ill.

Following the meeting yesterday, the members were guests of the president and executive at tea, all the delicious cakes being the product of the girls of the Y.W.C.A. household economics training class.

Junior W.A. Working on Show Plans

It was reported at the monthly meeting of the Jubilee Hospital Junior W.A. yesterday afternoon at the Nurses' Home, that the recent doll show had netted a profit of $428. A hearty vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. E. V. Finland, who so successfully organized the affair. A vote of thanks was also accorded Mrs. F. M. MacPherson, wife of the Minister of Public Works, for her kindness in opening the doll show.

It was decided by members of the auxiliary that the show be an annual affair, and the sum of $100 be set aside to purchase dolls for next year. A doll's pram will be offered as the prize in a contest.

HORSE SHOW

The forthcoming Winter Horse Show to be held at the Willows on December 17 and 18 under the auspices of the Junior W.A. was discussed and the following committee conveners appointed: Tickets, Miss Vida Shandley; decorations, Mrs. K. R. F. Denniston, and ushers, Mrs. Blenkinsop. The evening performance will include a number of spectacular riding and jumping events and in the Saturday afternoon show the programme will be devoted entirely to junior riders. It was reported that tickets are already in great demand for both performances, several hundred having been sold. They are on sale at Fletcher Bros. and the Cairo Coffee Shop, or may be obtained from any member of the Junior W.A.

Mrs. R. B. Horton reported seven diet cases carried on; Miss Shandley spoke of three weekly sewing meetings; Mrs. Jack Gray reported three weekly meetings, when 6,580 dressings were made. Miss McBride reported twelve home and 144 hospital visits and transportation provided for four patients.

CHRISTMAS PLANS

The W.A. will again decorate the trees in the hospital at Christmastime and the members will meet at the hospital on December 23. Mrs. R. A. Wootton was appointed in charge of the buying committee; Mrs. Jack Gray, decorations, and Miss Ruggles, wrapping of parcels. The sum of $25 will be spent on decorations and presents for the patients. The next meeting will be held on January 10, instead of January 3.

BAPTIST RALLY

The Vancouver Island Baptist Y.P. Association held its semi-annual rally on Saturday in the Emmanuel Baptist Church, with the president, Harry Renfree, in charge. The devotional period was led by Miss Sylvia Smith, who took for her topic "Service." The guest speaker was Professor F. F. Warren, dean of the school of religion of Seattle Pacific College, who brought a challenging message on the responsibility of youth, pointing out that real Christianity embodied illumination, purification, attraction and radiation. This was followed by helpful discussion on various phases of the address, the discussion groups being led by Miss Margaret Freeman and Alex Hall. Mr. James Forrester, field secretary of the I.S.C.F. for British Columbia, spoke at the supper table, his subject being "The Fight of the Christian Life." The evening session was opened with a song service, after which Rev. G. A. Reynolds led in prayer. Professor Warren gave his second address, his subject being "Substitutes for Religion," and made a stirring appeal to all young people to acquit themselves with "the real Christ." Musical items were contributed by Rev. Cecil Barner, Mr. James Oakman and the Nanaimo group. The accompanists were Misses Lillian Parfitt, Gladys Troupe, Florence Rowley and Mr. Alex Hall.

Current Events Club Addressed At Gordon Head

"Nome on the Bering Sea and the Northern Arctic and Eskimo" was the subject of an illustrated address by Mr. C. H. French at the regular meeting of the Gordon Head Current Events Club.

Mr. French's pictures of Nome dated back to the days of the city of tents and gave an idea of the difficulties of transporting machinery and supplies into Alaska. The story of sealing through the various stages of development was told graphically, after which the audience was taken in imagination around the coast of Herschell Island to visit the Eskimo in his igloo or at his work of fishing and hunting.

Mrs. F. I. Innes presided as chairman at the meeting and Mr. R. W. McClung moved the vote of thanks to the speaker. There was a short musical interlude during which Mr. Lord sang "The Midshipmite" and "Bells of the Sea," the accompanist being Mrs. Gilbert.

MEN LOVE PEPPY GIRLS

If you are happy and peppy and full of fun, men will take you places. If you are lively, they will invite you to dances and parties.

BUT, if you are cross and lifeless and always tired out, men won't be interested in you. Men don't like "quiet" girls. Men go to parties to enjoy themselves. They want girls along who are full of pep.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three ordeals of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."

Don't be a three-quarter wife. Take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and Go "Smiling Through."

YOUNG LIBERALS

The Twentieth Century Young Liberal Association of Victoria will hold a general meeting at Liberal headquarters tonight at 8 o'clock. The guest speaker will be C. H. O'Halloran, K.C. A Cough Won't Go Away Of Itself

Many people get a nasty cough and do not pay any attention to it, saying, "Oh, it will wear away in a short time," but even should it, serious injury may have been done to the bronchial tubes by the prolonged, harsh, racking coughing.

Too much stress cannot be laid on the fact that on the first sign of a cold or cough it should be gotten rid of immediately, as failure to do so may prove a serious matter to the general health.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup has been on the market for the past forty-eight years, and we can recommend it as being one of the best remedies for colds and coughs you can possibly procure.

Miss Agnes S. Fraser, R.R. 4, New Glasgow, N.S., writes:—"I had a terrible cough. I used to cough a lot at night. I could not get rid of it. A friend told me about Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. It relieved my cough right away."

TORONTO SHARPSHOOTERS DOMINATE SCORING RACE

Bombers and Argos Preparing for Big Match on Saturday

Powerful Grid Teams Training Hard for Canadian Final at Varsity Stadium This Week—Expect Crowd of Between 15,000 and 20,000—Evenly-Contested Game Is Expected

TORONTO, Dec. 6 (CP).—An offensive arsenal that belches its power with stunning suddenness, then is taken from the conflict before you have a really good look at it, rested today in the Toronto clubhouse of the Argonauts. It will be brought out for further inspection Saturday.

In the somewhat mysterious armsstore of the Scullers are hidden plays—plays that haven't yet been produced against a football foe. Anyway, that's what they say around the Argo camp. They say no team has had the full offensive power of the Scullers thrown at them.

Innocently warming up at Ann Arbor, Mich., for Saturday's Canadian final here against Argos, newly-crowned Eastern champions, Winnipeg Blue Bombers are living in a haven of false hopes. They saw Argos beat Sarnia Imperials, 10-6, Saturday—but they didn't see much. So they say around the Argo camp.

In fact, Argo supporters have come to believe there is limitless power in Lew Hayman's team. They confide a mighty force like the Bombers, unquestionably strong in all departments, are likely to make Argos keep playing offensive football. They'll like that.

STRONG POINTS

In their nine-game run to the inter-sectional final, Argos established clearly their strong points—good punting, good place-kicking, senational open-field tackling, hard-running backs.

Bob Isbister will outkick Winnipeg's booters, Art Stevenson and Steve Olander The Bombers readily admitted that after watching the Argo star kick a few Saturday. In the final two years ago, Winnipeg conceded the same advantage to Hamilton Tigers and won despite weak punting.

Argo ends may be better than those of the Tigers two years ago, but it's doubtful. Seymour Wilson and Jimmy Simpson, of the Tigers, were, and still are, regarded as among the best tacking outsides in the East. Winnipeg's dashing Fritz Hanson eluded them and Winnipegs figure Hanson will elude the Argos.

But Toronto was high today on the new Eastern champions, whose brilliant drive to the Big Four championship and past the Imperials has created greater football interest here than in years.

If an inch of snow is melted away by Saturday and good playing conditions exist, Varsity Stadium may have 15,000 to 20,000 spectators inside its walls.

REX CAREY AND PARKER AFTER TRIP

Victoria Fighters to Compete In Canadian Trials on The Mainland

VANCOUVER, Dec. 6 (CP).—A pair of young Montrealers — triple and double champions in their own line —detrained here today, vanguard of a husky horde converging on Vancouver for the British Empire Games boxing and wrestling trials. Vernon Blake and Larry Clark waved a cheery greeting to a handful of welcoming athletic officials as they ended what they hoped was only the first lap of a trip to the games in Sydney, Australia, next year.

REX CAREY

They were the first arrivals of an athletic army expected to top the eighty mark when the eliminations get under way here next Friday.

Blake will stake the skill that brought him the Dominion flyweight Eastern Ontario and Quebec crowns for a berth on the Canadian wrestling team.

Clark will bid for the trip as a bantamweight, the class he dominates in Eastern Ontario and Quebec amateur wrestling rings.

With the entry deadline nearing —midnight tonight—officials here announced seventy-seven entries from Halifax to Vancouver. Boxing headed the parade with fifty-five and a half dozen or more expected.

Eddie Ferguson and Hymie Wisenthal, of Montreal, light heavyweight and heavyweight respectively, and Richard King, Calgary featherweight, are Dominion kings bidding for the Australian trip in the wrestling division.

Montreal also supplied boxing champions in Tommy Osborne, heavyweight; Joe Debrofsky, who forsakes the bantams for a crack in the featherweight division, and Joe Gagnon, flyweight.

VICTORIANS ENTERED

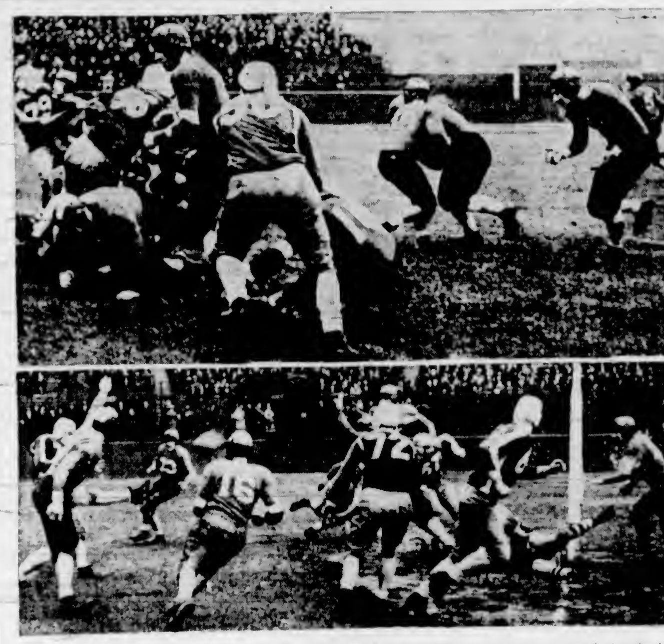

Six British Columbia titleholders were entered for the two-day boxing session.

Two Victorians headed the list, Rex Carey, middleweight, and Bobby Parker, bantam, the latter traveled to Los Angeles recently for the United States Pacific Coast golden gloves eliminations.

Frank Glover, light-heavy and heavyweight champion; Ed Lindsay, provincial flyweight king; Doug Powell, lightweight, and Gordon Woodhouse, welterweight, completed the British Columbia title entries.

Officials announced the boxing eliminations would consist of four two-minute rounds to a decision, and the wrestling two five-minute frames, first fall or a decision.

Plenty of Action During Grid Play-Off

Feature of the game as Toronto Argonauts and Ottawa Roughriders met in the final struggle for the interprovincial Rugby title at Toronto. Ottawa brought to Toronto a four-point lead in the trophy race. Top, Argo man is stopped in his tracks as he attempted to sidestep an Ottawa player and get off a pass to a waiting wing. Below, a last down signal has been called for a kick which is made in safety as an Argo backfield man gets his toe to the leather.

YOUNG WINGER OUT IN FRONT OF GOAL SCORERS IN HOCKEY

Gordie Drillon Has Piled Up Sixteen Points and Leads Jackson, Horner and Apps in Canadian Division—Paul Thompson Tops Snipers In American Section—Barry Second

MONTREAL, Dec. 6 (CP).—The big four of the Toronto Maple Leafs, with more than fifty points between them, remain out in front in the National Hockey League scoring race. There's no serious challenge to the top man of the group, young Gordon Drillon The Leafs' second-year sniper is credited in tonight's official league statistics with sixteen points, made up evenly of goals and assists. Behind him follow Harvey Jackson, with seven and six; Red Horner, two and ten, and Syl Apps, three and eight. (The official list gives Apps one more assist than unofficial compilations.)

PAUL THOMPSON

Drillon's eight goals put him at the head of the league, too, in actual scores. He's one up on Jackson; Nels Stewart, of New York Americans, and Sweeney Schriner, of the Amerks, last year's scoring leader.

For assists, the palm goes to Horner, the one-time bad man. Red has helped out on ten goals, two up on Drillon and Apps.

Point-getting leadership in the United States Section switched during the last week from Marty Barry, of the slumping Detroit Red Wings, to Paul Thompson, of the Chicago Black Hawks. Thompson has three and seven, a single point up on Marty.

The penalty leaders remained unchanged during the week. Baldy Northcott, of Maroons, with thirty-seven minutes on the sinners' bench, is twelve up on Babe Siebert, of Canadiens.

SQUADS ARE IN FAVOR OF DULLER BALL

National League Clubs Want Lively Ball Done Away With Next Year

CHICAGO, Dec. 6 (AP)—The National Baseball League unanimously voted down an extension of the team player limit from twenty-three to twenty-five members tonight and recommended the major leagues confer in the near future with college authorities over means of regulating the signing of college players by professional baseball clubs.

The dead-ball issue and re-election of Ford Frick as National League president injected a bit of life into the Winter major league baseball meetings which opened this morning with a lot of trade and smoke and little fire.

Club owners and the league presidents, Frick and William Harridge, of the American League, met informally to discuss with manufacturers the possibilities of making a less lively ball.

Practically every National League club favors a deader pellet, while only New York Yankees, Detroit Tigers and Philadelphia Athletics reportedly are holding out for retention of the "rabbit" sphere.

Formal American League action with Harridge's term having a year to run, was confined to the acceptance of the retirement of Umpire William Dinneen. Bill Grieve, umpire in the American Association last season, will fill the veteran's place.

The National League club members recommended the annual all-star game between the major circuits be awarded to Cincinnati. The American League is expected to voice its approval. The American League picked the site in 1937.

RUGBY SQUADS OPEN PLAY IN FINAL SERIES

Local Fifteens Start Second-Half Schedules Saturday —Navy Withdraws

Their first-half campaigns completed, senior "A" and "B" fifteens in the Victoria Rugby Union will open their bids for second-half laurels this week, officials announced at yesterday's meeting held in The Colonist board room. Intermediate League squads, with one week's matches needed to complete their initial half chase, will swing into the final round one week later.

J.B.A.A., present holders of the Barnard Cup, symbolic of the senior "A" championship, took the honors in this division, while the Navy carried off the senior "B" title, finishing one point in front of the Canadian Scottish.

Withdrawal of the Navy from the senior "A" division was announced at yesterday's parley by Lieutenant-Commander J. C. I. Edwards, coach. With the annual leave period at this time of the year, and the departure in the near future of the ship from the Esquimalt base, the sailors have found it necessary to drop out of further competition.

Fred Cabeldu intimated that the University School ruggers would seek entrance to the Intermediate League during the second half.

Maxie Schmeling Will Be Defeated Declares Trainer

NEW YORK, Dec. 6 (CP).—Max Schmeling will not only fail to regain the world heavyweight boxing crown, but he'll never get a chance to fight for it, said Will McCarney, trainer of champions, today, as he predicted Harry Thomas would trim the German in their bout here on December 13.

"Anybody who thinks Schmeling's got a soft touch in this Thomas boy is plumb crazy," said McCarney, who at one time was connected with the German's management. "Thomas is hard to tag, and even when he does get nailed it doesn't upset him."

Accrington Wins Replayed Match

PRESTON, England, Dec 6 (CP).—Accrington Stanley qualified for a berth in the second round of the English Football Cup today with a smashing 4-0 victory over Lancaster here. Accrington now meets Crystal Palace in the December 11 round of matches.

Held to a 1-1 opening-round draw at Accringtton, the teams replayed at Lancaster, posting a similar score after overtime.

MAY REDUCE AGGREGATIONS

Reduction of English Cricket Teams Recommended by Commission

LONDON, Dec 6 (CP)—Reduction of English county cricket championship teams from seventeen to fifteen was recommended today by a commission appointed by the Marylebone Cricket Club, ruling body of the sport, to investigate problems confronting first-class counties.

The report also recommended that clubs making agreements with professionals should insert a clause that no player shall accept an invitation to tour overseas unless given consent by the M.C.C after consulting his committee.

A change also was urged in the point system, giving 12 points for a victory instead of fifteen and no points to the team losing on first innings. At present, a loss on first innings is three points.

The commission, although aware the eight-ball over would be a time-saver to "time-limit" cricket frowned on the idea.

Findings of the commission have not been considered by the M.C.C first-class teams or the advisory county cricket committee.

Rangers Shut Out Boston Bruins in National League

Lynn Patrick Helps New York Team to 4-0 Victory Over Art Ross' Squad—Canadiens Defeat Chicago Black Hawks, 3-2—Americans Turn Back Detroit Red Wings by 2-1 Score

(By the Canadian Press)

Red Dutton's old men of Manhattan have proved the worth of that old hockey axiom, "That it's not the goals you score but the spots you pick to score them."

With the National Hockey League season a month old, New York Americans have bagged just a few more than half the goals Toronto's Maple Leafs have piled up. But today finds Amerks crowding Conny Smythe's team for Canadian Division leadership.

A brace of wins in the week-end battling left the New Yorkers just a point behind Leafs and they may switch positions when they go into action again next week-end. And Americans have done that on twenty-four goals compared to Leafs' forty-two. Dutton's men were practically reckless with their scoring Saturday night when they defeated Montreal Maroons 3-1, but against the world champion Red Wings in Detroit Sunday night they kept the figures to a neat 2-1.

LYNN PATRICK

Two games on five goals is about the Amerk average and Montreal Canadiens did almost as well over the week-end by taking a win and a tie with six. They played Leafs to a 3-3 draw Saturday night and worked out a 3-2 win over Black Hawks in Chicago Sunday night, running their undefeated string to six games.

Those three points gave the flying Frenchmen third place in the Canadian division, Maroons dropping to the cellar after having shared the runner-up spot with Americans. New York Rangers made the only other move in the standing when they defeated Boston, 4-0, Sunday night, and moved into the American division's second spot over the Hawks.

SHARES SPOTLIGHT

The veterans and the youngsters among the Amerks shared the spotlight in their two wins. After old Nels Stewart had scored the winning goal at Montreal, Sweeney Schriner slapped in both their markers at Detroit.

In the Montreal game Stewart broke a 1-1 tie two minutes before the game ended and then made the play for Eddie Wiseman to get their third goal. Schriner had started them away in the lead early in the game and Herb Cain had tied it in the second period.

Schriner handed Wings their seventh defeat in ten games with his two goals in the first period. Desperate, Jack Adams tried his forward lines in every combination he could. Finally, the Aurie-Barry-Lewis line he had broken up earlier was reformed in the third and scored, Larry Aurie getting the counter.

The affair at Toronto Saturday night was one of the roughest games of the season with thirteen penalties being handed out. Toe Blake, of Canadiens, and Bob Davidson, of Toronto, were given majors for fighting in the third period and Harvey Jackson, of the Leafs, drew a misconduct penalty for talking to the referee.

The Frenchmen were flying high from the start and George Mantha and Blake scored in the second before Syl Apps could put Toronto into the running. Jim Fowler tied the score in the third on a long shot and when Bill Thoms sent the Leafs ahead for the first time Rod Lorraine tied it again. All but two of the goals were scored with men on the penalty bench.

RALLIES TO WIN

In Chicago Canadiens spotted Hawks goals by Louis Trudel in the first and Paul Thompson in the second before Blake and Lorraine tied it up in the middle session. Polly Drouin gave the Habitants their well-earned win late in the final session.

The Ranger win over Boston was the Bruins' second straight shutout defeat in a spectacular early season record. They had won six and tied two before Canadiens beat them Thursday.

When Rookie Clint Smith took Lynn Patrick's pass for a goal half way through the first period last night Boston tossed aside defence and went after goals.

They were unsuccessful and Rangers were unable to take advantage of the open play until the third, when Art Coulter, Butch Keeling and Patrick increased their margin.

All-Day Shoot Is Scheduled Sunday By Victoria Club

Further information may be secured from Elick Wilson, secretary.

Dominoes Ready For Title Play; Now Affiliated

MANAGER Dave Nicol and his Victoria Dominoes, former holders of the Canadian basketball championship, were laying plans for another shot at the Dominion crown yesterday, following their affiliation with the Vancouver Island Association at Sunday's meeting, held in Nanaimo. It was moved by Ernie Stock, Saanich and Suburban League delegate, and seconded by Cyril Baker, Nanaimo, that the action of George E. Bonner, president of the Island body, in accepting the Dominoes be upheld. The motion passed by a 5-to-2 vote, with Victoria and Tom Lewis, a past president, voting against it. Nicol attended the meeting and explained why the Dominoes didn't affiliate through the Victoria and District League. A motion sponsored by Wally Yeamans, granting the Sunday School League of Victoria a vote on the Island council, subject to the approval of the Victoria League, passed by a 4-to-3 margin.

HOW DO WE COME BY THE MASCOT COIN WITH THE HOLE IN IT?

Many a man carries in his pocket as a mascot, a coin with a hole in it. He is not superstitious; but when he changes suits, he transfers the coin. And so he stays as he was.

The idea of a "good luck coin" comes down to us from primitive days when man believed fervently in charms, amulets and supernatural signs and portents.

With the Franks, as possibly among other early peoples, the common token for the consummation of an agreement was a coin, broken in two.

By these, lovers plighted their troth, and by virtue of the sacred vows exchanged over the two halves, the sundered pieces had ascribed to them peculiar mystic attributes.

When the coin would not break, it was bent; a hole would be bored through the centre; and it was given to one of the contracting parties.

Pockets being then unknown, he or she would wear this around his or her neck—a talisman, an occult force against disease, unhappiness and the evil spirits tenanting the times.

WASTED ELOQUENCE

A keen golfer who had a charming girl on his right at dinner, gave her graphic descriptions of his achievements with the clubs, hardly allowing her time to speak. During the dessert he remarked: "I'm afraid I've been monopolizing the conversation and talking nothing but golf."

"Oh, never mind," said the girl. "But you might tell me: What is golf?"

GOLF FACTS NOT THEORIES
By Alex Morrison

Today golfers take more cognizance of the number of strokes taken on the putting green. You often hear a player talking about taking three putts on a green where he feels that he should have taken only one, or at most two. And along with this, it is worth noting that you seldom hear any mention of shots sent out of bounds. The short shots have come to be known as the money shots and the putting green as the payoff.

There is only one explanation for three putts on any green. The player expects to get down in fewer strokes than he is entitled to take. If his ball is about ten feet away from the cup, and the player is not capable of stopping his ball within a few inches of the cup, he can very easily take the third stroke to get down. If the most expert putter is playing from the far edge of a big green he can leave himself a difficult four or five-foot putt which he will probably miss because he has counted on getting down in two strokes.

If players would allow for two putts when an approach shot leaves them more than five feet away from the hole, they would soon improve in their work on the greens. When the ball is more than twenty feet away, the player should realize that there is something wrong with his approaching, that the main fault does not lie with his putting.

That Body of Yours

(By James W. Barton, M.D.)

SHOULD LAXATIVES BE TAKEN?

There is no question but that having a regular intestinal habit is of great benefit to the body. I sometimes think that it is a greater benefit to the mind. When a man or woman on arising from bed in the morning, or directly after breakfast, has a natural desire to empty wastes from the large intestine, it is a source of satisfaction to him or her that he or she has such a "regular" bowel. Unfortunately, however, if this "regular" bowel movement does not occur, there are many of these intestine or bowel conscious individuals who immediately begin to worry about it. And just as the "regularity" gave a feeling of satisfaction, of "lightness" as it were, so does the missing of one regular time for bowel movement upset them; all that day the fact that the bowel movement was missed that morning remains on their minds, and any feeling of dullness, "blueness" or melancholy is blamed on the "wastes" that are still in the intestine.

As a matter of fact, Dr. Walter Alvarez, Mayo Clinic, some years ago was able to show that while most healthy men and women had a bowel movement once or twice a day, there are other individuals who have but two a week and yet remain perfectly healthy.

That there is some absorption of poison into the blood from wastes in the large intestine is quite true, but the heavy dull feeling of which some individuals complain is often due to the weight of the wastes in the intestine rather than this absorption.

The point is that the bowel should rid itself of "some" of its wastes once, twice, or three times each day; after each meal with many. As long as this occurs, if only once a day with the majority, it shows that the large bowel is doing its work of absorbing water from the wastes and pushing this part of the wastes downward and out of the body. A healthy bowel is never empty, but it should be always moving its wastes downward.

Man was meant to work his body, to move about, to eat some "rough" foods daily. When exercise is taken and fruits and vegetables are eaten regularly, constipation should not occur.

But man does not or will not work or exercise, and many will eat nothing but smooth, refined foods. If the bowel is thus not stimulated to push wastes downward a laxative once or twice a week is naturally necessary.

Try, however, not to become "bowel conscious."

BRITAIN PROTESTS BOMBING OF SHIPS

closed and strengthened with sandbag barricades. The Chinese apparently were preparing for a stand within the city, with its thirty-two-mile-long walls, from thirty to fifty feet high, the greatest in China.

Nothing was known of the whereabouts of General Chiang, who had declared China's determination to resist to the last.

The Japanese reported destruction of the boom across the Yangtze River at Kiangyin, ninety miles east of Nanking, which hitherto had prevented Japanese warships from steaming to attack Nanking. Already Japanese men-of-war were reported moving upstream to bombard Chinkiang, forty miles from Nanking.

DENY BATTLESHIP SUNK

A Chinese report that Japan's 32,720-ton battleship Nagato had been sunk by Chinese air bombs in the Lower Yangtze drew derisive denials.

Reports from scattered points in the North asserted Chinese guerillas were harassing Japanese lines of communication. It appeared that although the Japanese held the rail lines, most of the hinterland was overrun by Chinese bands, many of them belonging to the Communist armies, which thrust constantly at the invaders.

CITY IS ISOLATED

NANKING, Dec. 6 (Ap). — Smoke from the 100 villages and hamlets, set afire by retreating Chinese forces, late today darkened the horizon to the east and south of Nanking. China's capital, abandoned by its Government two weeks ago, virtually was isolated from the rest of the world.

Foreign embassy officials decided the time had come for their nationals to get out if they hope to escape from Nanking before the Japanese army laid siege to the city.

Japanese columns were reported approaching rapidly. Eight Americans boarded the gunboat Panae. Seventeen remained within the city walls, but several of these were expected to go aboard the gunboat soon, before closing of the huge gates cut off all chance to depart.

RIVER SHIPPING STOPS

Sunday's bombing of Wuhu, sixty miles up the river, by Japanese air forces, has forced suspension of all civilian shipping services upriver. A British gunboat and two British merchantmen were hit in that bombing.

Heavy Japanese air attacks today on Pukow, just across the Yangtze from Nanking, blocked all chance of escape by the railway to the north.

Telephones between Nanking and Wuhu either were cut or taken over by the Chinese army. With the Japanese approaching from the east and south, there was no outlet in those directions.

A British official aboard a launch taking them to a British gunboat on the river was fired on by Chinese soldiers in a sampan, but the shots went wild. The launch flew the British flag.

In spite of the vigilance of remaining Chinese authorities, looting and housebreaking is increasing in Nanking. Six Chinese charged with looting were shot this morning.

RADIO TECHNICIANS HOLD CITY MEETING

J. Ellison presided over a meeting of the Associated Radio Technicians of British Columbia, held at the Y.M.C.A. last night.

A report was received concerning an organization meeting held in Nanaimo recently, attended by twelve members from Victoria and others from Nanaimo, Courtenay, Alberni and other Up-Island points, with the object of arranging for members from the northern centres to meet periodically in Nanaimo.

Varsity Athletic Invasion May Be Revived This Year

REVIVAL of the annual Varsity athletic invasions was intimated at yesterday's meeting of the Victoria Rugby Union. In discussing dates for the Thunderbirds' McKechnie Cup games here with Victoria's "Crimson Tide," one of the delegates stated that the students from the Point Grey University plan to visit the city in January. As far as could be ascertained last night, no information of the proposed revival of the inter-school athletic contests has been received by Victoria College officials.

Rangers Shut Out Boston Bruins in National League

Lynn Patrick Helps New York Team to 4-0 Victory Over Art Ross' Squad—Canadiens Defeat Chicago Black Hawks, 3-2—Americans Turn Back Detroit Red Wings by 2-1 Score

(By the Canadian Press)

Red Dutton's old men of Manhattan have proved the worth of that old hockey axiom, "That it's not the goals you score but the spots you pick to score them."

With the National Hockey League season a month old, New York Americans have bagged just a few more than half the goals Toronto's Maple Leafs have piled up. But today finds Amerks crowding Conny Smythe's team for Canadian Division leadership.

A brace of wins in the week-end battling left the New Yorkers just a point behind Leafs and they may switch positions when they go into action again next week-end. And Americans have done that on twenty-four goals compared to Leafs' forty-two. Dutton's men were practically reckless with their scoring Saturday night when they defeated

Montreal Maroons 3-1, but against the world champion Red Wings in Detroit Sunday night they kept the figures to a neat 2-1.

Two games on five goals is about the Amerk average and Montreal Canadiens did almost as well over the week-end by taking a win and a tie with six. They played Leafs to a 3-3 draw Saturday night and worked out a 3-2 win over Black Hawks in Chicago Sunday night, running their undefeated string to six games.

Those three points gave the flying Frenchmen third place in the Canadian division, Maroons dropping to the cellar after having shared the runner-up spot with Americans. New York Rangers made the only other move in the standing when they defeated Boston, 4-0, Sunday night, and moved into the American division's second spot over the Hawks.

SHARES SPOTLIGHT

The veterans and the youngsters among the Amerks shared the spotlight in their two wins. After old Nels Stewart had scored the winning goal at Montreal, Sweeney Schriner slapped in both their markers at Detroit.

In the Montreal game Stewart broke a 1-1 tie two minutes before the game ended and then made the play for Eddie Wiseman to get their third goal. Schriner had started them away in the lead early in the game and Herb Cain had tied it in the second period.

Schriner handed Wings their seventh defeat in ten games with his two goals in the first period. Desperate, Jack Adams tried his forward lines in every combination he could. Finally, the Aurie-Barry-Lewis line he had broken up earlier was reformed in the third and scored, Larry Aurie getting the counter.

The affair at Toronto Saturday night was one of the roughest games of the season with thirteen penalties being handed out. Toe Blake, of Canadiens, and Bob Davidson, of Toronto, were given majors for fighting in the third period and Harvey Jackson, of the Leafs, drew a misconduct penalty for talking to the referee.

The Frenchmen were flying high from the start and George Mantha and Blake scored in the second before Syl Apps could put Toronto into the running. Jim Fowler tied the score in the third on a long shot and when Bill Thoms sent the Leafs ahead for the first time Rod Lorraine tied it again. All but two of the goals were scored with men on the penalty bench.

RALLIES TO WIN

In Chicago Canadiens spotted Hawks goals by Louis Trudel in the first and Paul Thompson in the second before Blake and Lorraine tied it up in the middle session. Polly Drouin gave the Habitants their well-earned win late in the final session.

The Ranger win over Boston was the Bruins' second straight shutout defeat in a spectacular early season record. They had won six and tied two before Canadiens beat them Thursday.

When Rookie Clint Smith took Lynn Patrick's pass for a goal half way through the first period last night Boston tossed aside defence and went after goals.

They were unsuccessful and Rangers were unable to take advantage of the open play until the third, when Art Coulter, Butch Keeling and Patrick increased their margin.

All-Day Shoot Is Scheduled Sunday By Victoria Club

THE Victoria Skeet and Gun Club will hold an all-day shoot at its clubgrounds, Albert Head Road, on Sunday, December 12. Due to the early darkness, officials in charge have decided to start the shoot at 10 o'clock in the morning. All sportsmen are invited to attend and participate in the event. Further information may be secured from Elick Wilson, secretary.

Dominoes Ready For Title Play; Now Affiliated

MANAGER Dave Nicol and his Victoria Dominoes, former holders of the Canadian basketball championship, were laying plans for another shot at the Dominion crown yesterday, following their affiliation with the Vancouver Island Association at Sunday's meeting, held in Nanaimo. It was moved by Ernie Stock, Saanich and Suburban League delegate, and seconded by Cyril Baker, Nanaimo, that the action of George E. Bonner, president of the Island body, in accepting the Dominoes be upheld. The motion passed by a 5-to-2 vote, with Victoria and Tom Lewis, a past president, voting against it. Nicol attended the meeting and explained why the Dominoes didn't affiliate through the Victoria and District League. A motion sponsored by Wally Yeamans, granting the Sunday School League of Victoria a vote on the Island council, subject to the approval of the Victoria League, passed by a 4-to-3 margin.

HOW DO WE COME BY THE MASCOT COIN WITH THE HOLE IN IT?

Many a man carries in his pocket as a mascot, a coin with a hole in it. He is not superstitious; but when he changes suits, he transfers the coin. And so he stays as he was.

The idea of a "good luck coin" comes down to us from primitive days when man believed fervently in charms, amulets and supernatural signs and portents.

With the Franks, as possibly among other early peoples, the common token for the consummation of an agreement was a coin, broken in two.

By these, lovers plighted their troth, and by virtue of the sacred vows exchanged over the two halves, the sundered pieces had ascribed to them peculiar mystic attributes.

When the coin would not break, it was bent; a hole would be bored through the centre; and it was given to one of the contracting parties.

Pockets being then unknown, he or she would wear this around his or her neck—a talisman, an occult force against disease, unhappiness and the evil spirits tenanting the times.

WASTED ELOQUENCE

A keen golfer who had a charming girl on his right at dinner, gave her graphic descriptions of his achievements with the clubs, hardly allowing her time to speak. During the dessert he remarked: "I'm afraid I've been monopolizing the conversation and talking nothing but golf."

"Oh, never mind," said the girl. "But you might tell me: What is golf?"

Varsity Athletic Invasion May Be Revived This Year

REVIVAL of the annual Varsity athletic invasions was intimated at yesterday's meeting of the Victoria Rugby Union. In discussing dates for the Thunderbirds' McKechnie Cup games here with Victoria's "Crimson Tide," one of the delegates stated that the students from the Point Grey University plan to visit the city in January. As far as could be ascertained last night, no information of the proposed revival of the inter-school athletic contests has been received by Victoria College officials.

Losses Suffered By Most Issues On Wall Street

NEW YORK, Dec. 6 (AP).—Stocks slipped a couple of cogs in today's market.

Selling in steels was the unsettling factor, and leading issues suffered losses running to 2 or more points.

While dealings were quiet throughout, most groups were inclined to give ground from the start. Aircrafts and a handful of specialties were exceptions, some of these managing to emerge with modest plus signs at the close.

The Associated Press average of sixty issues yielded .6 of a point at 46.1. Transfers totaled 836,760 shares, compared with 1,556,980 last Friday.

Secondary and defaulted rail loans inclined downward in the bond market today. Higher-prices carrier liens were resistant and a few showed gains.

Foreign dollar loans tended a little higher.

WHEAT FUTURES PUSHED HIGHER

WINNIPEG, Dec. 6 (CP).—Increasingly dull outlook of the Argentine crop situation and sharp advance of wheat at Buenos Aires supplied strength to push wheat futures two cents higher on Winnipeg Grain Exchange today.

Values closed near the top levels despite easiness in cash prices and a small export business of about 150,000 bushels. Closing quotations were 2 1-4 to 2 higher, December at $1.19 1-2, May $1.16 1-8 to $1.16 1-4, and July $1.11 7-8 to $1.12.

Outside markets took their cue from Buenos Aires, where noon quotations were 1 7-8 to 3 1-8 cents higher. Reports of heavy rains at En Entre Rios, Santa Fe, La Pampa and Buenos Aires Provinces lent a firm undertone to dealings.

Liverpool trading was at higher levels, due to the fact a large share of world wheat shipments were directed to European countries. Final prices were 1 1-4d to 1 3-8d higher.

A light export demand for No. 2 and No. 3 Northern grades failed to keep cash prices steady. No. 1 closed 3 cents lower at 17 cents above the December future. No. 2 eased a cent at 12 above the December future. Other grades were unchanged to 1 cent down.

Coarse grain futures firm. Rye advanced 1 7-8 to 1 cent to show the biggest gain.

TRADING HEAVY ON TORONTO MARKET

TORONTO, Dec. 6 (CP).—Prices advanced on the Toronto market today in the heaviest trading since October 19, and the bulk of the gains were intact at the close. Turnover reached 1,395,000 shares.

Brazilian anticipated the dividend announcement by advancing 1 3-8 to 12 3-8 in heavy trading. Other issues up a point or more were Goodyear common and Massey-Harris preferred.

Dome Gold added a fraction. In the secondary group gains of 5 to 12 cents appeared in Central Patricia, Kerr-Addison, Mcleod-Cockshutt, O'Brien, Paymaster, Pickle Crow, Premier, Preston, San Antonio and Towagmac.

International Nickel closed a point down, but other leading base metals closed higher, including Smelters, Noranda, Falconbridge, Pend Oreille, Sudbury Basin and Ventures. Falconbridge and Ventures firmed 45 to 50 cents.

Medium-price western oils were strong from the opening and they readily absorbed considerable profit-taking around the noon period. Royalite was the only important exception to the upward movement, closing nearly 2 points lower. The close was up 7 to 14 cents for Calgary & Edmonton, Hargal, Lowery, Model, Southwest Petroleum and Dalhousie, and a few cents were added by Highwood, A.P. Consolidated, Calmont and Home. Okalta firmed 18 cents.

Silver Markets

LONDON, Dec. 6 (AP).—Bar silver declined one penny an ounce today to 18 7-16d, as a result of nervous selling from India and absence of buying orders.

The unsettled condition was attributed to reports the international silver agreement in 1933 would lapse at the end of December.

The pact, signed by eight principal silver producing and consuming countries, put limits on Government sales of the metal for four years.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6 (AP).—Bar silver, 44 3-4; unchanged.

MONTREAL, Dec. 6 (CP).—Silver futures closed weak today, 300 to 325 points off. Contracts: One December, one exchange. December to July at 15-point premium.

Prices Irregular at Close of Session on Vancouver Exchange

VANCOUVER, Dec. 6 (CP).—Prices were irregular at the close of an active session on Vancouver Stock Exchange today. Several oil stocks overcame early losses and closed a few cents higher, while golds and base metals were generally firm. Turnover of 402,614 shares was heaviest in several months.

Home Oil declined 10 cents at 1.45, Calgary & Edmonton, 4 at 2.96, and Calmont, 2 1-2 at 59 1-2. Royalite dropped $2 at $47, Davies Petroleum, 4 cents at 45, and Vulcan, 2 at 1.35. Dalhousie advanced 11 at 91, Foothills, 15 at 1.15, and Okalta, 8 at 1.68. Hargal firmed 2 at 35, Firestone, 4 at 25, and other active issues were unchanged to mixed.

Bralorne Gold gained 15 at 8.00, and Premier, 2 at 1.91. Viking at 2 and Halda at 6 1-2 were both active and closed fractionally higher. Pioneer at 3.05, Sheep Creek at 90, Big Missouri at 37 and Minto at 3 1-2 were unchanged.

Lucky Jim set the pace in the base metal group and added 5-8 at 2 3-4. B.C. Nickel at 8 1-2 and Grandview at 8 3-4 were fractionally higher, while Pend Oreille advanced 15 at 1.90. Nicola eased 1-4 at 5 and remaining white metals held steady.

The disbursement will be the first since resumption of dividends a year ago at this time with payment of $1 a common share.

BUYING INTEREST IN SPECIALTIES

MONTREAL, Dec. 6 (CP).—Specialties held buying interest in an otherwise dreary stock market session today.

Brokers said brisk demand that lifted Brazilian 1 1-8 points to 12 1-4 was in anticipation of the 50-cent dividend declaration which was announced after the market close.

Nickel slipped a point to 43, while Smelters finished nearly a point higher at 54. Demand for Noranda strengthened to 50, ahead 1 1-4.

Steel of Canada preferred gained 1 1-2, but Dominion Steel "B," Foundation and General Steel wares gave up fractions. Also down narrowly were National Steel Car and Canadian Car.

Total sales were 230,300.

So Stiff!

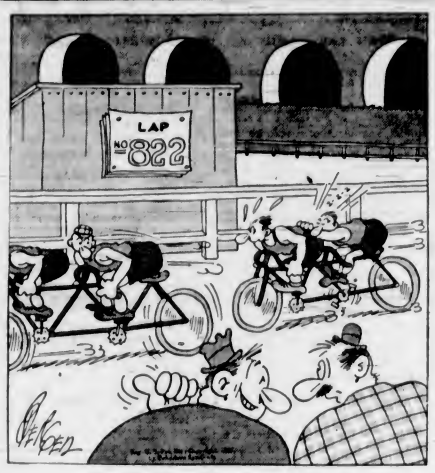

It's no fun trying to get around with stiff, aching muscles. So unnecessary, too, when a few applications of Sloan's will help to limber them up. No tiresome rubbing or massaging is necessary with Sloan's. You just pat it on lightly. This liniment has in itself all the power needed to produce a penetrating warmth that relaxes the muscles and helps to take out stiffness and soreness. Sloan's starts giving speedy relief as soon as it touches your skin. 13K

"Where do you think you're goin'? ! ! ! !"

Jane Dixon Says:

TODAY WE HAVE THE PROBLEM OF A DIVORCED GIRL, STILL IN HER 'TEENS, WHO IS FRETFUL BECAUSE THE MAN TO WHOM SHE IS ENGAGED WANTS TO POSTPONE THEIR MARRIAGE TO MAKE SURE THAT SHE WILL BE HAPPY WITH HIM

If we truly are sorry for a mistake we have made, if we have the heart and the wisdom to profit by that mistake, we do not whine about the payment we are asked to make for it.

"Dear Miss Dixon: What began, nearly two years ago, as a good friendship between myself and a man almost twice my age has grown into a serious love affair for both of us.

"I was the first one to realize the change in our relationship. Things were complicated by the fact that I have been married and divorced, and though I am still in my 'teens, I have a child two years old. I was so young when I first married I had no idea of the seriousness of what I was doing. It was brought about by my association with the wrong crowd which resulted in harm to my reputation. Since that experience, however, I've stayed on the straight and narrow path. The man I love knows all about this phase of my life, so I have nothing to fear on that score.

"Although he says he loves me, he has avoided the subject of marriage. This caused me to pick quarrels with him frequently and to 'quit,' but always I realize I can't do without him and we come together again. The last time a break-up came he must have suspected the reason, so he asked me if it was because he had not mentioned marriage. I admitted it was. He told me he wanted to wait until my next birthday: that he felt I still was too young to be certain of myself and that he must be sure I was not making another mistake.

"Miss Dixon, I know I am not making a mistake this time. Ours was not love at first sight. It is a gradual growth. I'd do anything for him. My birthday will be next April and that seems like an eternity to wait.

"My child and I are living with my folks. I'm sure we're not wanted. We have continual trouble over the baby, who is being spoiled by them until I have no control over him. I must get away as soon as possible if I am to get him in hand. We are waiting for your advice.—Many Thanks."

Comment: Rome was not rebuilt in a day and neither is a soiled reputation or a mistake which involves the lives of three persons—your first husband, your child and yourself.

The man you love and who loves you is entitled to a fair guarantee on your future happiness together. And you, if you have learned from your unfortunate experience, should have enough understanding and justice to allow him that guarantee. There is nothing unreasonable in his decision. April is not an eternity away. To the faithful, the loyal, the cheerful, it is just around the corner.

You seem to be lacking in strength of character. Your child is your own and you should insist upon governing him. It takes two to make a quarrel, you know. Do not quarrel with your parents or even argue with them. Just go ahead and enforce your methods determinedly and silently.

If the man loves you enough, and your position in your parents' home becomes untenable, he will put aside his need for further assurance of your dependability and marry you. However, for the development of your own character, you should make every effort to solve your problem instead of escaping it by way of the marriage altar.

WHAT HE WENT BY

A very muddy car came down a country lane and stopped beside a rather foolish-looking lad. The driver leaned out and, pointing to a pond just ahead, said to him, "Is that pond deep? I want to drive my car through it to clean the mud off."

"No, sir, not very deep," replied the yokel.

So the driver drove his car into the pond, but the water rose above the wheels, then above the mudguards, and finally got into the engine, which spluttered and stopped. The driver's feet began to feel damp.

Leaning out of the car window, he shouted to the youth, "Hi, you! I thought you said this pond wasn't deep."

The yokel scratched his head in a puzzled way. "That be very funny, sir," he replied. "It only comes halfway up my ducks."

TALKIES, RADIO AID TO VOICE

Speech Bound by Mental Bonds, Declares Emma Dunn, of Hollywood

The human voice is influenced by character, in the opinion of Emma Dunn, stage and screen actress, teacher of, and lecturer in voice culture, who was in the city during the week-end, registered at the Empress Hotel.

She contends perfect speech is attained by freeing the mental bonds that bind the voice. "Every tone we speak is a record of our habitual thinking," Miss Dunn declared, in pointing out that the radio and talkies have brought a great improvement to the voices of millions.

Here to rest, and to get away from the bustle of artificialities of Hollywood, Miss Dunn thinks Victoria an ideal place in which to relax.

Among the films in which she has appeared are "Madame X," "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town" and "The Emperor's Candlesticks."

A free lance player, she periodically gets away from Hollywood to give lecture tours on voice culture and adult education. These, she says, are her main interests.

Miss Dunn left Victoria for the Mainland yesterday afternoon.

RABBIT BREEDERS

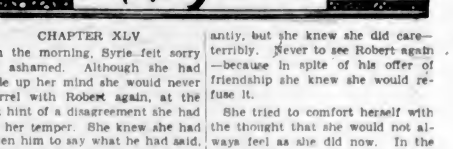

The regular meeting of the British Columbia Provincial Rabbit Breeders' Association will be held at 419 Belleville Street this evening at 8 o'clock. The report of the Winter show will be presented, followed by a general business discussion.

CHAPTER XLV

In the morning, Syrie felt sorry and ashamed. Although she had made up her mind she would never quarrel with Robert again, at the first hint of a disagreement she had lost her temper. She knew she had driven him to say what he had said, and it made her feel hot as she remembered that she had struck him.

Joan would never have done such a thing—but then Joan would probably never have had provocation; she had never lived with Robert in such an utterly false position.

Syrie sighed as she dressed, longing yet dreading to hear Robert's key in the door. But Tompkins informed her as he brought the breakfast coffee that Mr. Harwood was still in bed.

At half-past eleven there was still no sign of Robert, and Syrie's contrition began to fade; after all, he had been as much at fault as she had—he had no right to remind her that she was being paid to—to be bullied by him and by Miss Harwood.

She had almost made up her mind to telephone to Basil Loder she could not lunch with him, but as the time wore on the old feeling of defiance returned, and at half-past twelve she went out to meet him. She woud show Robert he could not have things all his own way; she had as much right to be angry with him for kissing Joan Baker as he had to be angry with her for—well, for anything she had done.

But after she had walked a few steps she turned back. "Will you please tell Mr. Harwood, if you see him, that I shall be in about three o'clock?" she said to the porter.

"Mr. Harwood went out an hour ago, Madame," the man said in evident surprise.

She was feeling miserable now—utterly at a loss. What was the use of defying him? She was the only one who suffered, and then suddenly she thought, "Supposing I run away and leave him?"

Leave him to make what explanations he could; leave him to face the consequences alone? It would serve him right. But once again she realized that she would be the only one to suffer; Robert would not care; he would get out of the difficulty somehow.

But it all came back to her when she went! . . . That had to be faced—the fact that some day she would have to go; the fact that sooner or later she would find herself alone.

"I don't care," she thought defiantly, but she knew she did care—terribly. Never to see Robert again—because in spite of his offer of friendship she knew she would refuse it.

She tried to comfort herself with the thought that she would not always feel as she did now. In the end she had laughed about Basil and had wondered why she ever cared for him.

"But I was never really in love with Basil," Syrie argued. "It was all quite different from the way I love Robert."

Loder was waiting when she reached the restaurant. "I was afraid you were not coming," he said as he took her hand. "Were you very tired this morning?"

"Not a bit—it was a lovely party." Syrie tried hard to speak with enthusiasm, but she felt nervous and depressed.

Why was she here with this man, for whom she cared nothing? All her thoughts were with Robert, who had so unconsciously shut every other man out of her life.

Loder looked down at her. "You're very pretty this morning, Syrie."

"Am I?" she flushed, remembering how only a year ago she would have rejoiced to know that he admired her.

"I've ordered all your favorite dishes, darling," he said presently. "Do you remember when——"

Syrie broke in sharply. "Please don't call me darling," and then she added, trying to laugh, "Don't forget that we are both respectable married people."

"I am not likely to forget it."

There was an offended silence before he asked, "What have you done with Robert this morning?"

"He is paying a duty call on Miss Harwood."

"The old lady with the money," Loder said with a faint sneer.

"Robert is not interested in her money," Syrie objected.

Loder shrugged his shoulders. "You seem very sure," he said.

"I am sure."

Syrie began to pull off her gloves. Loder, glancing at her hand, said, "You haven't found your ring."

"No." She sighed unconsciously and he asked, "What are you thinking about?"

"Do you really want to know?"

"Of course."

Her eyes met his with a troubled expression in their blueness. "I was wishing I hadn't come," she said simply.

Loder flushed. "Why?" he asked curtly.

Now Is the Time to Get Your New Winter Permanent

Prepare yourself for the gay festive occasions ahead. Let us design for you a coiffure that will make you look your best.

What Today Means

"SAGGITTARIUS"

If December 7 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:45 to 11:45 a.m., from 1:45 to 3:45 p.m., and from 7:45 to 9:45 p.m. The danger periods are from 7:45 to 9:45 a.m., from 5:45 to 7:45 p.m., and from 9:45 to 11:45 p.m.

Motive power will be the influencing factor in many lives this day. Transportation troubles due largely to carelessness may bring trouble to many people, so if you are driving any kind of a vehicle you should exercise unusual caution. Speedy movements, or trying to do things in double-quick time, are likely to be the underlying causes of many of the day's accidents. Whatever you have to say, in any matter involving sentiment, let it be sincere. Straightforwardness will be the only method that can be practiced successfully this day in social or business circles, if you are depending on words to put anything over. Want of symmetry in things of an artistic nature must be guarded against, for distortions, due to poor vision or faulty lighting, are apt to prove offensive to discriminating eyes. Married and engaged couples, as well as those who are under the magic spell of love, will find it well worth while to be demonstrative in their affection today.

If a woman and December 7 is your birthday, in any partnership with probably the exception of matrimony, your desire to dominate and regulate may make you experience a sense of dissatisfaction; so perhaps you should try to work alone. You must not get into the habit of looking on the gloomy side of things. A sufficient amount of faith and hope, on your part, might enable you to accomplish wonders. As a lecturer, interior decorator, tea room or gift shop manager, author, actress or broker, your work, in all likelihood, will win substantial monetary recognition. There is no reason why your judgment in the selection of a husband should not be excellent.

The child born on December 7, upon coming of age, as a rule embarks upon a very successful career. The importance of learning self-control must be impressed on this youngster during adolescence.

If a man and December 7 is your natal day, your greatest fault may be a fondness for rich foods, as well as a proneness to pass snap judgment on your business associates. As an educator, clergyman, scientist, engineer, agriculturalist, actor, politician, inventor or salesman, you may discover the means to make large sums of money.

THERE'S A DIFFERENCE

GYRO CLUB HAS SOCIAL EVENING

Members of the Gyro Club and their wives enjoyed a social evening at Terry's banquet hall last evening.

Following dinner at 7 o'clock motion pictures were shown to the gathering.

The evening was concluded with dancing. Bert Osborough was in charge of arrangements for the affair.

"I was looking out of the dining-room window, and I actually saw a house fly."

"Indeed! I was under the impression that whole houses never did that, and that only the chimney flue."

THREE LEADING MEN FOR STAR

Annabella Has Trio of Male Actors Opposite Her in Film "Dinner At the Ritz"

As befits an international star of her fame, Annabella is starred opposite three leading men in her latest film, "Dinner at the Ritz," New World picture released by Twentieth Century-Fox, opening today at the Dominion Theatre.

Paul Lukas, David Niven and Romney Brent are featured in important roles, Lukas and Niven play romantic parts and Brent an American reporter-detective. Each of the three has reached the top of film prominence; together they make the picture as tensely exciting as its star is excitingly lovely.

CAPITOL THEATRE Irene Dunne, with Cary Grant in "The Awful Truth," now at the Capitol, make a perfect match that is a riot in this hilarious gem, and with Mr. Smith, the famous dog who made such a hit in "Thin Man," combine to give patrons the greatest and most thrilling entertainment.

COLUMBIA THEATRE The largest newspaper city room yet attempted by motion pictures took its place among the settings comprising the background of "Libeled Lady," showing currently at the Columbia Theatre.

OAK BAY THEATRE "Fury and the Woman," the locally produced picture now showing at the Oak Bay Theatre, has unrehearsed effects in the thrilling scenes of a forest fire in action. The story, set in a Vancouver Island logging camp, took the cast into the woods around Cowichan Lake. "Fury and the Woman" features Molly Lamont and William Gargan with a strong supporting cast which includes many Victorians.

PLAZA THEATRE The entire action of Samuel Goldwyn's new film, "Dead End," now at the Plaza Theatre, which stars Sylvia Sidney, Humphrey Bogart and Joel McCrea, under William Wyler's direction, takes place within twenty-four hours and on one New York street.
